The 1953 Yearbook

. . . presents this picture of a most memorable year at John Burroughs School. Having shared their joys in working together, the Class of '53 may always keep this book as a reminder of their march of progress.

The Class of 1953

Dedicates This Yearbook to

who will long be remembered by all who have associated with him as a man of fine scholarship and outstanding personality. Whether on the basketball court, the football field, or in the math class, Mr. Wolfe always did a superb job. His loss to Burroughs is a great one, but the Class of 1953 is joined by the whole school and its friends in wishing this splendid faculty member the best of success in any future undertaking.

Joseph Ophoven

who in the years he has spent at Burroughs has made innumerable friends and gained the respect of countless others. It is Mr. Ophoven's warmth and talented way with the students that will be missed in the coming years. We hope Wisconsin realizes how fortunate it is to have this man and we all join in wishing him a great deal of deserved luck in the coming years.

To the Class of 1953

I am proud, on this thirtieth anniversary of the founding of John Burroughs School, to salute another fine senior class. I know that you will carry on the splendid traditions established by Burroughs graduates in colleges across the country. I know that as members of our growing body of alumni you will continue to serve the school which has been so much a part of your lives. And I know that in the years ahead you will take a proud part in the affairs of your community and your country, fulfilling the high hopes that we here have held for you. Good luck. We shall miss you.

Sincerely,

L. D. Haertter

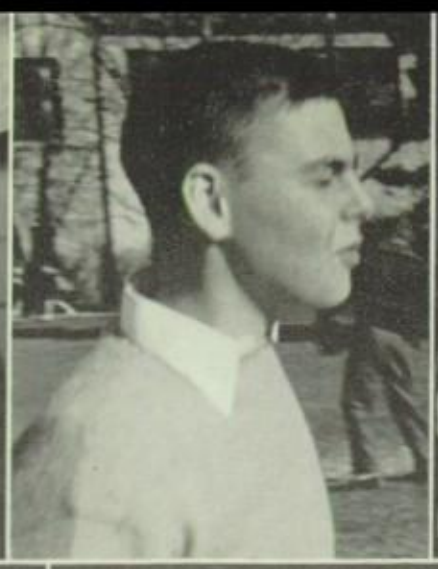
Classes

The classes at Burroughs are intended to stimulate the mind of the student and to make him aware of the problems of the day. It is in trying times such as the ones in which we live that the alert minds produced here will be most valuable.



Seniors in Action

And so it came to pass, that on this September day in the year of our Lord, one thousand nineteen hundred and forty-seven, there converged upon the sacred halls of John Burroughs School fifty and one fledglings of the genus homo. Counseled and guided by Miss Damon and Mr. Easum we soon became inured to the adversities of higher education and began to feel ourselves a part of the institution in time to participate in its most memorable year. Important things were happening — the dedication of our new gym, the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the school, and the demise of the "04." Those who failed to experience the hectic rides on the old trolley, piloted by the inimitable Red, have missed a colorful part of the legend of J. B. Our first class party was in November; a treasure hunt, movie and games. The second was square dancing and group singing led by our chief of the baton, Mr. Weinrich. Some of the mothers decided that we could benefit by dancing lessons, so about twenty of us were enrolled at the Arthur Murray Studios, and for better or for worse, we spent ten Saturday afternoons struggling to master the terpsichorean art. Perhaps a few of the boys can remember climbing into room 213 through the transom on cold Monday mornings, or Doc Sibley, soon to become one of our favorite teachers, rolling Tommy Levis around the lab in a waste basket. We elected Tom Rodes, Elaine Rowland and Sandy McDonald as class officers that year.

At the beginning of our eighth grade year we welcomed Georgia Kurrus, Betsy Reinhart and John Alexander into our midst and quickly elected our class officers, Rob Hunter, Gordon Philpott and Marilyn Montgomery. We considered ourselves an influential group by occupying three seats on the student council — our representatives: Bebe Weinrich, Sandy McDonald, and Leigh Strassner. Many Friday nights that year were spent in the little gym, dancing, singing, and generally making merry, under the stern guidance of Pop Payne. While the girls were busying themselves raising money to support

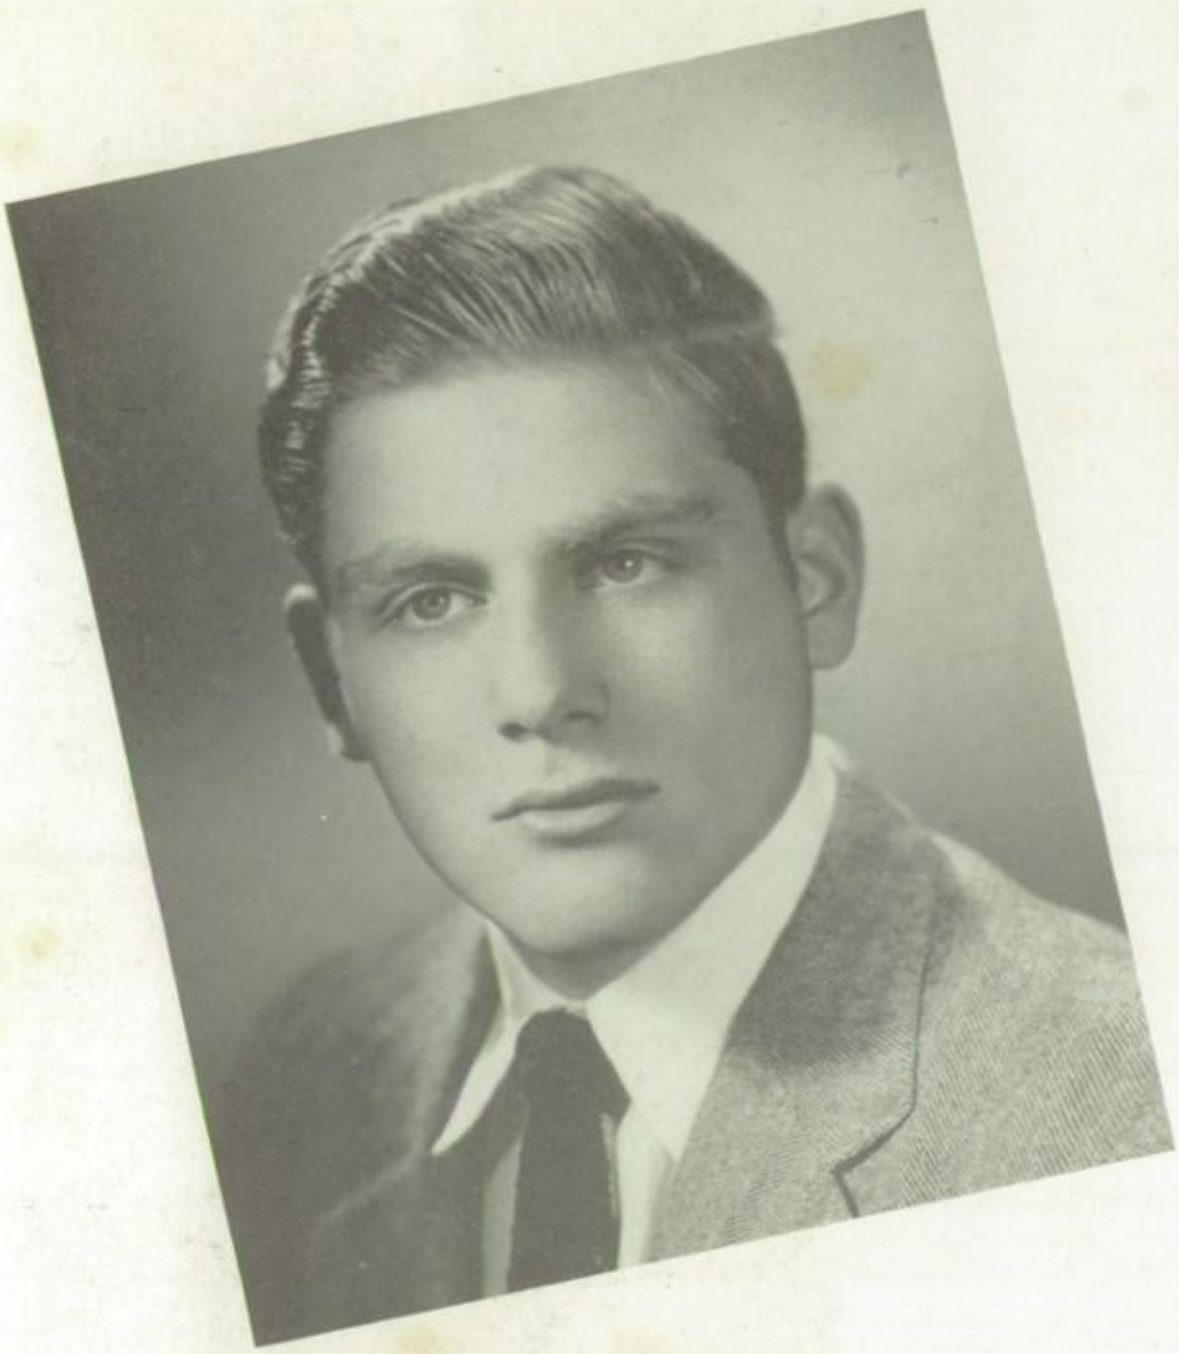
Senior Class President



ROBERT DUBINSKY

If you should hear a robust individual of Gargantuan proportions bemoaning the injustice of Adlai Stevenson's defeat, don't be alarmed; it's only Bob Dubinsky working off excess energy. "Roberto", as he has been dubbed in Spanish class, is noted for his interests in politics, his powder blue "Powerglide", and his athletic ability. Bob has participated in football, soccer, tennis, and track and has proved himself an able contender in all these activities. Scholastically, "Dub" maintains a "B" average, which brings no complaint from anyone save Bob himself. Elected to the class presidency early in the year, Bob has shown much initiative and dependability in performing the duties of his office. These attributes, coupled with an amiable disposition which will win him many friends, go to make up Bob Dubinsky, a truly great guy. He will be a loss to Burroughs, but decidedly a welcome addition to Harvard in September.

Seniors

GATES KENNEDY AGNEW

Gates has excelled in three main activities. He has attained nearly a straight "A" average in school work. "Ag" has done very well on the athletic field, taking part in football, basketball, and baseball. "Red" has reached the crowning height in student government, being elected Speaker of the Assembly. Gates is vice-president of the mythical John Burroughs Bachelors Club, leaving the presidency to a certain faculty member because of seniority. Gates joined the ranks in ninth grade and since then has established himself in the annals of John Burroughs history. Everyone — student, faculty, and parents — knows Gates as peaceable, likable, and an outstanding citizen of the school. Although he is snowed under with activities, Gates still finds time to keep up with the latest gossip and to do some locker leaning. Princeton is going to gain a truly amazing guy when Gates graduates from Burroughs.

TENTH GRADE: "B" Football, "B" Basketball, "A" Baseball, Typing, Glee Club. ELEVENTH GRADE: "A" Football, "A" Basketball, Glee Club, Speech, Chairman Finance Committee for Prom, Member Interschool Youth Council, Treasurer of Class. TWELFTH GRADE: "A" Football, Co-Captain, All ABC League, Third Team All District, "A" Basketball, "A" Baseball, "A" Track, Glee Club, World, Speaker of the Assembly, Junior Academy of Science, Advisor, Committee to Revise the Constitution.

JEAN SUSAN BAER

Jean has visited the exotic and interesting places and met the men that most of us only dream about. One summer she was in Europe (the lucky girl!); during others, in Mexico, Canada, Guatamala, and many of the great forty-eight states. And, of course, it will not be forgotten that she is a veteran of Aspen, having skied (?) there for three spring vacations. Certainly Jean has done many other things besides travel. She has taken ballet for six years, and has acquired admirable limberness. She has done some fine work in the art department. She is known for her willingness to help, her giggle, her chic dresses, and an avid interest in buying records. Good luck to her next year at college, where she will go far, especially in the field of art.

TENTH GRADE: Painting, Typing, Ski Club. ELEVENTH GRADE: Painting, Glee Club, Ski Club, Decorations Committee for Prom. TWELFTH GRADE: Painting, Glee Club, Ski Club, Home Economics, Decorations Committee for Leap Year, "A" Hockey.

TENTH GRADE: Fall Tennis, "B" Basketball, Tennis, Typing, Photography Club. ELEVENTH GRADE: Fall Tennis, "A" Soccer, Tennis, Rifle Club. TWELFTH GRADE: Fall Tennis, "A" Soccer, "Review".

JOHN CLARK ALEXANDER

Ever since Johnny joined us in the eighth grade, his constant and unwavering higher-than "B" average has been the envy of many of us, especially in view of the difficudt schedule he has always carried. His interests range from popular music (the "G" is his favorite disk jockey) to professional baseball, in which he is a real authority. Even though "Zander" wants to be a lawyer, he worked as an orderly at Barnes Hospital last year. His activities this year included reporting news for the "World" and working with the newly instituted speech class. In the past, some of his interests have been the Rifle Club and Photography Club. Facetiously called "Curly" (his crew cut is as short as possible), John's happy, carefree, and congenial attitude is sure to gain him friends in Washington University next year as well as it has in Burroughs.

TENTH GRADE: Glee Club, Dramatics, Ski Club. ELEVENTH GRADE: Glee Club, Ski Club, Home Economics, Invitations Committee for Junior Prom. TWELFTH GRADE: Glee Club, Dramatics, Ski Club, Senior Privileges Committee, Refreshment Committee for Leap Year Dance.

HELENE BAUER

Helene is the quiet type, but she certainly can get around. No one would ever think she was "murder" in a game of hockey, but to get near her would mean almost certain death. "Weenie" is just the same as her name implies; that is, she is small, has blond hair, blue eyes, and looks wonderful in all her clothes. As far as we all know, Bauer is one of the few really natural blonds in our class. She has never bleached her beautiful hair, which is amazing for anyone our age. Helene just loves all of her classes. French and biology are her favorites, and she acts normally to the rest. She is an active member of the Glee Club and the Ski Club and has gone to Aspen, Colorado, for four consecutive years. Helene will certainly miss all the joys she has had at Burroughs, but we hope she won't miss us so much that she can't enjoy any later life.

The "J" rolls on.

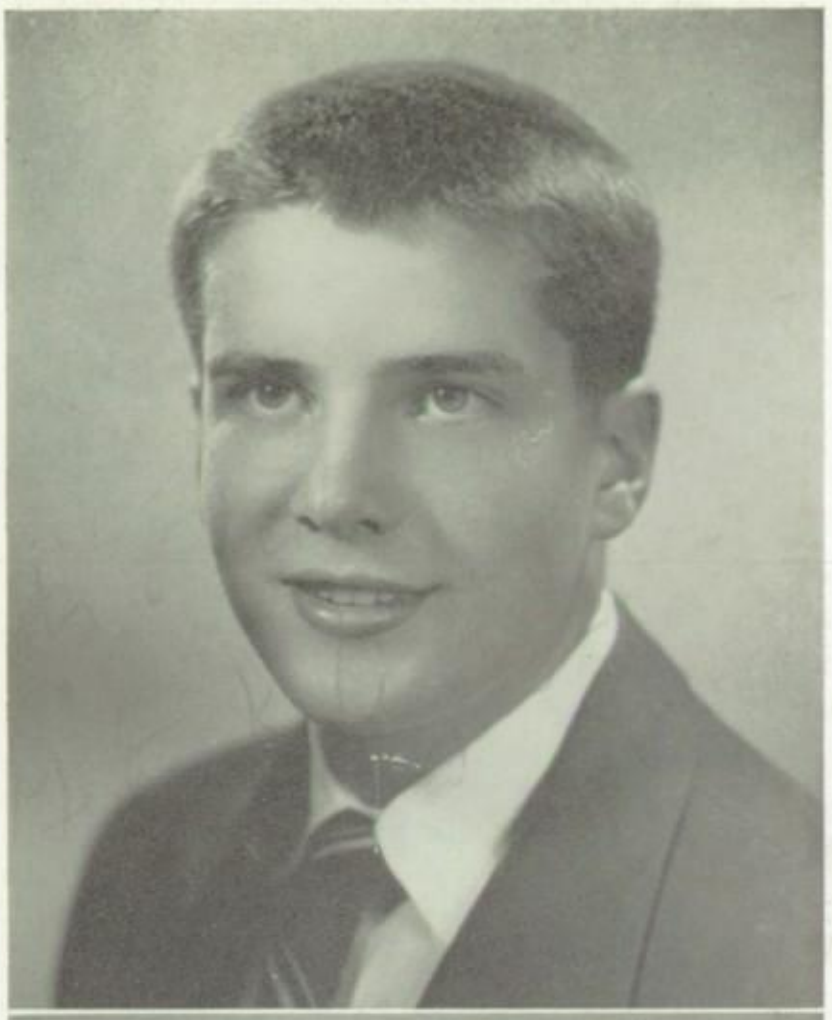
GEORGE WATTERS BILLMYER, III

George, who came to Burroughs in the seventh grade, ranks high on the list of outstanding personalities. George, or "Bilge" as his friends call him, also has the honor of being one of the Christmas Pageant's retired book boys. Between altercations with certain math and chemistry teachers, "Bilge" manages to keep a good scholastic average although he never wins any of the arguments. Bilge, who has managed the varsity teams at John Burroughs for two years, is claimed to be the best manager that the teams have ever had. George is known particularly for his color slides, the subject of which is trains, his main hobby. George has a vast knowledge of the trains that run in the United States and knows the exact hour that any train arrives or departs. It is sincerely hoped that what will be lost by Burroughs in '53, will, in a few years, be gained by the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

SUSAN MILDRED BERGER

A petite figure, sparkling eyes, a smooth page-boy (which, by the way, never has one hair out of place — come wind, rain, hail, or snow), and a flashing smile, describe Susie. She is always a leader whether on a hockey field or in a class room. As captain of the cheerleaders, she has contributed much thru her endless energy and will to win. "He's simple divine!" explains her newest heart throb. A day never goes by that a two-toned grey Chevvy does not zoom into the parking lot filled with books, gym clothes, megaphones, a cheerleading outfit, posters, and other odds and ends. Susie's music and dancing lessons (plus all her aunts, uncles, sisters and "beaux") keep her occupied outside school. She is a sincere and trustworthy friend; therefore next year . . . "Her many friendships will certainly show — that we'll think of Susie wherever we go!"



TENTH GRADE: Photography Club, "B" Basketball Manager, "B" Tennis. ELEVENTH GRADE: Typing, Photography Club, "A" Football Manager, "A" Basketball Manager, "A" Baseball Manager. TWELFTH GRADE: Rifle Club, Engineering Drawing, "A" Football Manager, "A" Basketball Manager, "A" Baseball Manager.

TENTH GRADE: Glee Club, Typing, "A" Varsity Hockey, "B" Varsity Basketball. All "A" Class Teams. ELEVENTH GRADE: Glee Club, Painting, "A" Varsity Hockey, All "A" Class Teams, Cheerleader. TWELFTH GRADE: Glee Club, Social Committee Chairman, Captain of Cheerleaders, "A" Varsity Hockey, All "A" Class Teams, Home Economics, Senior Privilege Committee.

TENTH GRADE: "C" Football, "C" Basketball, "B" Tennis, Painting, Photography Club. ELEVENTH GRADE: "B" Football, "B" Soccer, "A" Baseball, Painting, Rifle Club, Co-Chairman Prom Design, Typing. TWELFTH GRADE: Fall Tennis, "A" Soccer, "A" Baseball, "A" Track, Painting, "World" Sports Editor, Navajo Assistance Chairman.

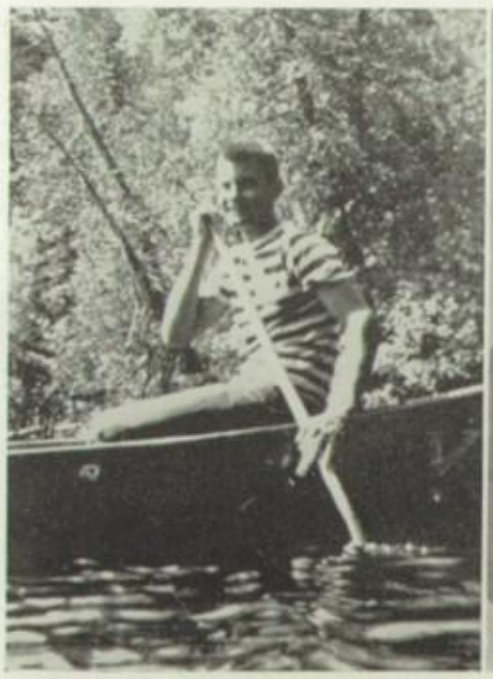
TENTH GRADE: All "A" Class Teams, "B" Varsity Hockey, "B" Varsity Basketball, "C" Varsity Baseball, Speech, Dramatics, Glee Club, Star-Times Writing Award. ELEVENTH GRADE: All "A" Class Teams, "B" Varsity Hockey (co-captain), "B" Varsity Basketball, "Review", Glee Club, Sculpture, Mural Committee for Prom, Script Writer for Mothers' and Daughters' Luncheon, Interschool Social Committee. TWELFTH GRADE: All "A" Class Teams, "A" Varsity Hockey, "A" Varsity Basketball (captain), Art-Editor of the "Review", "World", Glee Club, Sculpture, Senior Room Decorating Committee, Leap Year Decorations Committee.

GEORGE CAPEN BITTING

George, or Jerry as he is known to many of his classmates, is one of the more active members of the class. In addition to being Sports Editor of the "World", he takes an active part in athletics, his favorite sports being soccer and tennis. He is principally known, however, for his way with the women and his flame-throwing Chevrolet, which he invariably pilots at supersonic speeds. His great love for poker, jazz, and all the things that go with them has lost him many a dollar and made him many a friend. Notwithstanding his ability to enjoy the finer aspects of life, Jerry is a good student and hard worker. His aggressiveness, casual manner, and sense of humor guarantee that he will be as big a success at college as he has been at Burroughs.

ELIZABETH HATLER BRANDON

Liz's famous ex-horse-tail, the whooping laugh, passions for ear rings, Capezios, and jazz make her a unique person. She is an "excellent" driver, having had only two minor accidents, is a staunch member of the lady tenors of the Glee Club, prizes her colorful collection of outgrown boys' shirts, and only wishes she had enough time to progress beyond "The Happy Farmer" in her piano repetoire. Proving her versatility, Liz is as much at home on a saddle as with a hockey stick, and with a paint brush as with a biology book. She is art editor of the "Review" and has been one of the mainstays of numerous varsity teams in hockey, basketball, and softball. Independent and frank, Liz knows how to have fun and share it, and has many good (and sometimes revolutionary) ideas, which are followed thru with commendable results. Not only has she revealed herself a hard worker by her time and efforts on the difficult job of the Prom, but also by innumerable impromptu tricks she has taught her difficult dog named Arlington!



ACTI FATIS

Greetings, dearie, this is me.

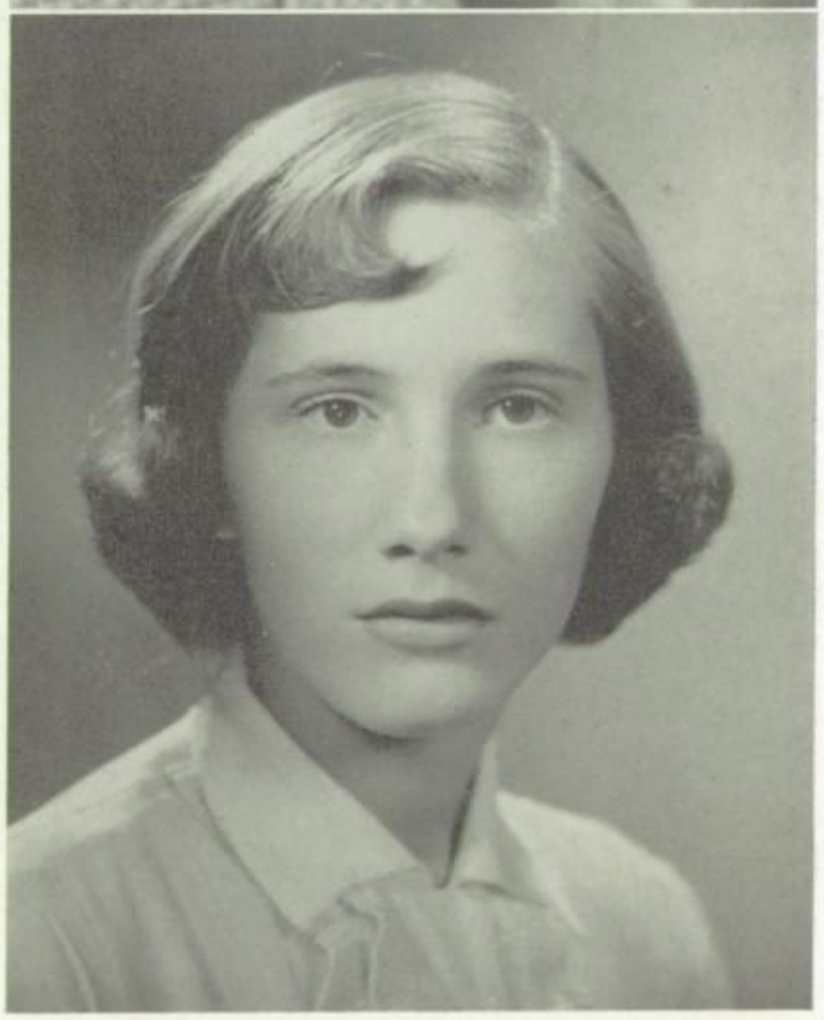
Seniors

WILLIAM COLEMAN BITTING

T. B., as he has been dubbed by his friends, has been long known to be one of the most amiable fellows in the class. In the academic field Tom has an amazing ability in math, which he apparently enjoys completely. This attribute is greatly admired and envied by everyone. Owning fifty per cent of the stock on the black, fire spitting, "dual spots" Chevy, Teeb can be seen much of the time, jetting around town, getting the most out of his half ownership. Lately, Tom has been part sponsor of quite a few "attic parties", which have been the talk of the class on the following Mondays. Sports-wise Tom is a golf and soccer enthusiast; he excels in both. We can all rest assured that T. B. will be as great an asset to Yale as he has been to Burroughs.

TENTH GRADE: "B" Soccer, "B" Tennis, Rifle Club, Photography Club. ELEVENTH GRADE: "A" Soccer, Golf, Rifle Club, German Club. TWELFTH GRADE: "A" Soccer, Golf, German Club, Photography Club.

KATHRYN GORDON BROWNLEE



Have a difficult problem to solve? Ask Teen about it — she can solve it with only a few well chosen words. She's the girl with the page-boy who drives a blue Cadillac, pardonez-moi, blue Oldsmobile. She loves clothes and has plenty of them to prove it. Her hobbies are mainly collecting earrings and knitting socks. Teen maintains a good average in school work and is a four letter man in French. She's a two-year man in cheerleading and besides being a good cheerleader, she's a good sculptress, soprano, and piano player. She's co-chairman of the Leap Year design, which shows she has art talent too. We don't need to wish her luck next year, because with all that talent how can she miss?

TENTH GRADE: Sculpture, Glee Club, All "B" Class Teams. ELEVENTH GRADE: Cheerleader, Sculpture, Glee Club, "A" Hockey, Class Team, Inter-school Social Committee. TWELFTH GRADE: Cheerleader, Sculpture, Glee Club, "B" Hockey, Co-chairman of Leap Year Design.

Every little "bit" counts.

It's easy.

Seniors

ALBERT WOODSON BLACK

When something needs to be done quickly, quietly, and efficiently, or when a difficult problem needs to be solved, Al is the man to turn to. His reputation as handy-man, eager worker, jack-of-all-trades, and trouble shooter has become a legend at Burroughs. In addition to singing and tootling a trumpet for Mr. Weinrich, serving as council member, supervising the lighting for all dances and plays, spending countless hours in the darkroom for the benefit of the "Yearbook", and faithfully upholding Burrough's honor on the field of athletic glory, Albert has also consistently maintained an excellent scholastic record. "Schwartz" has a mad passion for unique automobiles, explosives, harmless pranks, and the 440. He plans to enter the field of engineering, and his friends and classmates would not be surprised if he were to be at the receiving end of a Nobel prize in the future.

SUSAN CARR

Susie's desire to become a psychologist is evident in her enthusiasm for child psychology. This same enthusiasm was aptly applied to her role as Bella in the Dramatic Club's fall presentation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." A key member of the production staff of the spring play, her diligence behind the scenes proved to be an invaluable asset. She may win a fortune from the bets she has made on finishing those argyles. But win or lose, her terrific personality and sense of humor will always come out on top. Who else would have dyed her hair bright red for last year's spring assembly? But, come what may, she always arrives at school with her cheerful grin and high, laughing voice. No matter what college she chooses, she will have fun and will be a welcome addition.

TENTH GRADE: "B" and "C" Class Teams, Dramatics, "World", "Review". ELEVENTH GRADE: Dramatics, "Review", "B" and "C" Class Teams. TWELFTH GRADE: Dramatics, "Review", "B" Varsity Hockey Manager, "B" and "C" Class Teams.

But I blew in it so sweet.

It's my day to drive home.

PAUL LOUIS CHANDEYSSON

To know Paul is to know a down-to-earth, sincere, real person. It's a pleasure to watch that sensible and logical mind in action. No ballyhoo catches him napping, nor is he easily taken-in. His good grades in academic subjects have earned our respect, and his work in industrial arts and photography have left behind a few marks to be shot at. Not to be forgotten is Paul's electrical wizardry; he's a mean man with a hot wire, and many an electronic gadget owes its existence to him. Paul is a good man in a crisis; his steady calm and quiet humor carry himself and his friends over the hump. His warm friendliness and honest interest in the other fellow have given him his own fine place in our class.

SANDRA LOUISE CARVER

Sandra is one of those indescribable people with knack for doing anything and everything. With the most crowded week-ends imaginable, she has kept the morale of the Air Force and Westminster soaring and has still managed to get good grades and finish her homework weeks before it is due. Sandra had quite a Christmas this year. She not only fulfilled her long desire to be in the Christmas Pageant, but also got her own car. She has an endless supply of clothes, which incidently she makes herself, and always has on one of her many cashmeres. Sandy has been an active member of the "Review," one of Mr. Dreher's prize painting pupils, a vocal member of any party or group, and an unforgettable member of our class, whom we wish the best of luck in her following years at Washington University.

TENTH GRADE: "Review", Dramatics, Painting. ELEVENTH GRADE: "Review", Dramatics, Painting, Finance Committee for Prom, Committee for Choosing Mary and Joseph. TWELFTH GRADE: "Review", Painting, Decoration Committee for Leap Year, Publicity Committee for Leap Year, Worshipper for Christmas Pageant.

MORTON PETER FISCHER

Since coming to Burroughs six years ago, Pete's friendliness has made him a favorite of both young and old. In the field of athletics, Fish has participated in football, basketball, and tennis. With the coming of summer, Mort engages in baseball, ping pong, and swimming at the swank Fischer Country Club. Even with many outside activities, such as sculpture, Pete found time to get good grades and at the same time work as feature editor of the "Yearbook." He has the reputation of being a heavy eater, especially at someone else's house. Besides eating, Pete's joys in life are listening to light opera and Charlie Trenet and expounding the work of the League of Women Voters and Cape Cod. Whether Pete Fischer goes to Duke to study engineering or match making, he will be missed at Burroughs in the years to come.

MARIANA MARCH CREGO

Marianna is as popular with parents as she is with students. Her wonderful sense of humor, her adorable absentmindedness, and her angelic face are some of the reasons for this popularity. Anyone who wants to know about hair dyes, diets, fingernail polish, or cashmere sweaters should ask "Sam", for she is an expert. Marianna is also somewhat of an expert on baseball and modern dance. Although "Creg" maintains a strong "B" average, she has time for hard work at "World" meetings and painting classes; however, Marianna is unaware that she has knowledge, popularity, and good looks. She is often seen quietly listening to the troubles or adventures of her classmates. Her comments are always understanding and encouraging. Outside of school Marianna has developed a liking for cakes. Of course, she manages to have a few dates each weekend. Her dates number at least three per weekend. What a gal!!!

Come on, let's go.

Life gets tedious, don't it?

Seniors

JOHN CHRISTOPHER GAVAN

John uses his nimble wit to the best advantages of securing good grades and winning friends. An individualist, John lets his voice be heard as a cheering factor in the face of discouragement and as an apathetic voice in the face of blind enthusiasm; this is true in English class, where John is an excellent student, and in "Review" meetings. John's perseverance is such that he took weight lifting all last winter in spite of the fact that his friends laughed each time they remembered the time he fell over backwards while holding one hundred pounds overhead. His friends don't laugh, however, when they find themselves in the receiving end of one of John's serves on the tennis court. He is acknowledged to be the best card player in the class, his favorite games being poker and cribbage. John was elected secretary of the senior class earlier this year — another sign that he will never lack friends and admirers.

LOUISE HAMILTON

It is a familiar sight to see Weezie's MG struggling up the driveway every morning at 8:45. Weez has a knack for twisting her face into the most miraculous expressions, at times quite formidable, but she usually ends her weird contortions with a friendly smile for all. You will always find Weezie in the center of any laughing crowd — trying to figure out what the joke is about. She is really not dumb as that might imply, for she manages to keep consistently good grades. Weezie has been a member of the cheerleading squad for the past two years. Her friendliness and cheerful willingness to cooperate will long be remembered, and is bound to continue to bring her all the popularity and success that she has enjoyed during her four years at Burroughs.

FRANKLIN YOUNG GLADNEY, II

Since Frank entered Burroughs in the Sophmore year, his personality and sense of humor have won for him the admiration and friendship of all. While compiling a fine scholastic record, Frank has participated in numerous activities. His excellent voice was made use of in Dramatics, the Glee Club, and the Christmas Pageant, and as co-editor of the "World" this year, Frank and the staff presented an outstanding paper. His ability in athletics will be sorely missed. In springtime he has consistently held a high spot on the golf squad, and for the past two years has been a valuable aid to the "A" soccer team. The dining room of the Gladney home has become well known among the senior boys, for there have been played many long term poker games. Frank's main ambition is to be a successful writer; the remarkable attributes which he has shown at Burroughs will undoubtedly lead him to his goal.

SUSAN HILDRETH

One cannot think of Susie without thinking of beautiful red hair which, by the way, is natural. She is always found talking or dreaming about the West, especially the section around San Francisco. Her wire recorder has created enjoyment for many of her friends and proved interesting to others. After all, it is not every day that a person can hear Susie sing tenor, alto, and soprano, all at the same time. Being a great lover of jazz, her well-known basement has been fabulous. She enjoys playing bridge, and towards the end of a series of lessons last summer, she began to show a slight improvement. Susie is a good student, has participated in many extra-curricular activities, and has been a great addition to the class throughout all six years at John Burroughs.

WILLIAM BLAIR GULLION

Bill was the last boy to join the ranks of the class of '53, coming to us from University City High School in his junior year. At the time, the name Gullion was synonymous with basketball at Washington U.; and, although hampered by a bad back, Bill soon proved by his skill on the basketball floor this was not just a reputation. His enthusiasm for music, especially for George Shearing records, is surpassed only by his passion for basketball, which he practices all year. When not at school, he can usually be found shooting the breeze with his many acquaintances at Washington U., which he will attend next year. Tall, quiet, and friendly, Bill is one of those affable fellows who always seem cheerful and who are liked by everyone. His genial manner and friendly personality will always be a great asset to him.

LEXIE HILL

Lex, whose real name is Lexie, not Alexis, is one of the best athletes in the class of '53. One of the few girls who won their medals in the ninth grade, Lexie is on all varsity teams. Off the athletic field Lexie did a magnificent job as Mr. Arnold's assistant director in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." She was an angel in the Christmas Pageant in the seventh grade, and the housekeeper in "Pygmalion." Lexie will also always be remembered for her favorite expression "Oh Stab!", and wonderful parties, her singing and her membership in the Space Cadets Club. Even though she has a great interest in the University of Missouri, Lexie, always eager for new adventures, is thinking of going to the University of Alaska.

JAMES STANLEY HARRISON

One of the foremost pianists and billiard addicts of the senior class is Jim Harrison. Tall, dark, and handsome, Jim has participated in all phases of school life. Maintaining an "A" average throughout his six years at Burroughs, Jim has taken an active part in the athletic program, the chorus, the orchestra with his French horn, and the JBS court, and was Mrs. Edsall's pride in the painting department. Besides holding a deep and understanding appreciation for good art, he is also very interested in physics and chemistry. His redolent joy shines forth every time his high fidelity amplifier, that he made and assembled, is used. Often heard singing parts of "Carmen" while strolling down the Burroughs halls, Jim, with his ready smile, is a person whom his classmates and teachers will long remember.

CARLYN HIRSCH

Sue is everybody's friend and is never without something nice to say. If you are ever blue, she always has a new joke on hand, and you couldn't get her to stop talking if you tried. Sue's peppy personality adds much to any group, whether she is here or in Chicago. Even with two dates every week-end, Sue still races home after school to see if there is a letter from Sandy. Sue has a serious side too. She is always worrying about those extra pounds which none of us have been able to find. This year Sue was co-designer of the Leap Year. She takes part in all sports and teaches riding at camp in the summer. When Sue goes to Briarcliff next year, her witty remarks and contagious laugh will be remembered here and welcomed there.

I hate to take Chuck's money.

JOHN ROBINSON HUNTER

Rob's five foot, five inch frame houses a storehouse of talent, athletic ability, and personality. He has a large repetoire of music, including everything from Dixieland jazz pieces to resonant dirges, which increases each time he sits on the piano stool for his own enjoyment or for the entertainment of anyone who happens to be around.

Rob qualified "B" last fall, but through his fearlessly aggressive playing he was a key member of the "A" football team, a fast, rough left wing on the "A" soccer team, and a star on the "A" baseball team.

Rob is perhaps best liked for his quiet, affable manner, his ability to enjoy any form of recreation that presents itself, whether it is manual labor, card playing, listening to music, singing, dancing, reading, going to a show, or simply sitting and talking.

After six fruitful years of working and making friends at JBS, Rob is going South to college.

CAROLYN DEAN HIRTH

A smooth, blonde pageboy and a cordial smile will introduce you to Carolyn. She is always the first to appear in the senior girl's advisory bright and early every morning. This gal has a definite domestic streak, as shown in the delicious cakes and beautiful clothes which she can "just whip up." Her sports interests include soccer, hockey, and basketball. Carolyn has been a staunch supporter of the World Government Club for several years. She keeps the mailman, as well as the telephone operators, busy. Carolyn is active in her church group and can often be found serving a hot chili supper to her fellow churchgoers. She helped raise enough money for the Junior Prom by being a capable head of the bake sale committee. All memories of the senior year will include Carolyn.

DONALD SANFORD McDONALD

The "Little Macky", as he is commonly known, joined the ranks in seventh grade and since then has established an impressive record. During his six years at JBS, Mac has participated in "A" competition three years, obtaining such honors as "All ABC" football and baseball. Even though Sandy is not a party boy his reputation with the opposite sex has earned him the rank of "No. 1" among his classmates. Mac is equally famous for his practical jokes which usually result in the embarrassment of his friends. Sandy is one of the most popular students in the school, as is shown by his election to the student court, and as a fledgling legal eagle he has talked the student court into many a decision. With his great personality he will obtain many more honors after graduation.

JACQUELIN BOARDMAN JONES

Jackie, with her musical ability, her captivating laugh, and her numerous letters from all points in the East, is the first girl to be admitted to the senior class in many a year. Jackie has spent a great deal of her time since arriving at Burroughs in teaching the art of baton twirling. Any time something new comes up, Jackie can be heard saying, "Uh, what's this all about?" for she has a great deal of curiosity about anything different. Jackie's musical ability is shown in her love for Mr. Weinrich's musical literature class, and her ability to sit down at a party to play anything requested. Although Jackie has spent only one year at JBS, no one will ever forget her eyes, which almost pop out of her head when someone mentions New York.

CUYLER ROSS McGINLEY, II

Cuyler came to us from Springfield, Missouri, in his sophmore year. During his three years at Burroughs, he has earned a fine reputation as an outstanding leader and student. Cuyler has maintained a "B" average for the three years he has spent here. He has been a member of the Glee Club and the "World" staff. He has been on the football team for three years and the track and baseball squads for two. He is notorious to all those at Burroughs and the surrounding community for the two-toned, lopsided monstrosity which stalls on the parking lot every day. He calls it a car; others have their doubts. This ancient relic, responsible for his last-minute dash into advisory every morning, will never be forgotten. Chances are that Cuyler will be as successful in college as he has been at Burroughs.

MARY ELIZABETH JONES

Marzy is the gal who always walks to school — usually followed by one of the many dogs from the "Jones' Kennel."

Mary Elizabeth has been an enthusiastic supporter of all parties, boys from New York, Varsity Hockey, boys from Boston, Glee Club (for the past six years), and boys at home and in the Navy. She has, without a doubt, one of the most unusual laughs in the class. Her part laugh, part chuckle and part giggle which is accompanied by a blushing face, can be heard wherever students gather. Marzy has the commendable quality of being a reliable person. She is dependable not only in undertaking responsibilities at school, (as shown by her fine job of organizing the school parade last fall), but also as a friend. Mary Elizabeth with her famous giggle, good figure, constant cheerfulness, and ability to "take a joke" (and perhaps even add to it), is one of the nicest girls in the class.

WILLIAM AUSTIN NICHOLS

Since Nick joined us in the ninth grade, he has been an interested and active member of our class. He has proven himself to be an outstanding athlete. In fact, he is one of only two boys in our c ass to earn as many as nine varsity letters. Also, Bill does well in all his school-work, and takes an active interest in many activities, especially the "World". Last year he was construction chairman of the Prom, and he did much to make it the success that it was. Even during the football season, Nick seems to find time for Steak'n'Shake and those Kirkwood girls. Which one is it now, Bill? Seriously, Nick is one of those guys who is always willing to give a helping hand, and he has the personality and drive that will make him a success in whatever he does. Iowa State College will certainly be lucky to have him as a freshman next year.

NINA BARNWELL KING

"Mary's Lullaby", soprano solist for the Glee Club, designer of the Junior Prom, terrific sculptress, on the Senior Room Committee, loyal soccer supporter, these are but a few of Nina's many talents. She has also proved a wonderful "poker face" ("I'll bet a penny"), and her skill at bridge has Culbertson wondering. The Ninz is the seniors' pale faced beauty. Nature gave her blond hair but Nina believes in the old adage "Many hands make light—hair;" so about once a month she hits the bottle. With a Southern accent that drips honey after a trip to "South Cah'linah", she is one of the friendliest, craziest, and most terrific girls Burroughs has ever known. She is really going to be missed next year as she wends her way toward a career as a medical artist. Watch out you med students, here comes — Nina.

CHARLES ALFRED NIEKAMP, JR.

Charlie, or Chuck, as he is usually called by his friends, drives a shiny, new-looking model "A", which he affectionately calls "the Bile." He has continually amazed us with the way he scoots around corners in it. Although Chuck has only been with us for three years, he has compiled a fine record. He has always been able to make a "B" average and likes all sports. His favorite sport is soccer, in which he has been able to score when points were needed most. In the evenings Chuck can often be found listening to his records. He has a collection of good dixieland and classical music. His party on election night will long be remembered by everyone. With his quick wit and jolly laugh, Charlie makes friends quickly. The seniors of '53 will certainly miss him when their paths divide.

BEATRICE SAYLER KRAUS

If you see a tall, slim, good-looking girl walking into the senior advisory late, you can bet it is Sayler. The reason? "Oh, I had a flat." Sayler's main interest is horses. The cups and ribbons she has in her room are innumerable. Rumor has it that horse-back riding is good for reducing, but it is usually the horse that reduces; not so in her case, however, for it certainly keeps Sayler's figure trim. She spends her summers watching and participating in horse shows all over the United States. Another sport she is fond of is swimming. She drives a snappy yellow and black Chevy, which is usually parked at Steak 'n Shake. Her activities this year were sculpture, in which she won an award, and home-economics. She was one of the first girls to be accepted at a college. Good luck at Stevens next year, Sayler.

JOHN MacIVOR PERKINS

Although John is known primarily for his ability at the piano, he has earned recognition in many fields, both the arts and the sciences. He has excelled not only in many aspects of music, but in painting, photography, industrial arts, and Latin IV. He is regarded by all as capable in any field of endeavor, a success as grand and large as himself, and his amazing abilities and personality have won the admiration and friendship of all who know him. John has interests in many and varied subjects, and he possesses the initiative to develop his ideas and follow his interests in these subjects. His efforts have inevitably resulted in success whether they were directed toward a musical composition, a photographic masterpiece, or an electronic brain. According to the record of his past and the promise of his future, he is certainly outstanding.

GEORGIA BEHRENDSEN KURRUS

Who's that girl stumbling about in the hall? The one with the cracked glasses and brown (?) hair? That's Gus! She's the girl who drives a Lincoln but prefers chartreuse Ford convertibles.

She's secretary of the Council and makes good grades, especially in cooking coffee with Mr. Eiseman as extra work for chemistry. Talking about grades — she made the grade as Elizabeth in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and did a wonderful bit of acting in "Dear Ruth" as the mother.

Have you heard about her driving? I mean in sports.

GORDON WILSON PHILPOTT

Affectionately known as "Phil," "G.M.'s son," and "Pin Ears," Gordon has been a member of our class since seventh grade. President of the Student Council as a senior, he has participated actively in all student activities and is one of the most popular boys in the class. Phil, indeed, has a wide set of interests. Whether it be leading the John Burrough's football and basketball teams to victory (he was elected captain for the Country Day football game) or acting as the President and Grand Chief of the Association of Locker Leaners, Phil is far and away the best. Despite these many distractions, Phil manages to make consistently high grades, which are the admiration of all. JUNE MAUNE

Beautiful skin and eyes, a deep infectious laugh, hair that changes color from week to week (what is it now — pink, grey, or blue?), big, heavy earrings, fabulous clothes (handmade, of course), and deep discussions — all these things add up to June. Who can ever forget her passion for Aspen, Kansas U., taffy apples, and wonderful parties (which she always has in the Maune basement). June, who has sailed through her six years, now leaves Burroughs a richer school for her being here. Interests in many and varied fields from the Senior Girls' Knitting Circle to Mr. Weinrich's music literature class—from home economics, to dramatics, to varsity hockey, have helped June make her mark at JBS. Through the years, many males have wended their wandering ways toward her door, but she has managed to keep "full of fun and fancy free." A wonderful out-look on life, fun in anything she does, and friends wherever she goes; yes, all this is June.

DONALD STANFORD ROSENFELD

Many classes in the history of J.B.S. have used the term "B.M.O.C.", meaning "Big Man On Campus," to describe one of their outstanding members. Don is 1953's "B.M.O.C." and the man with a thousand nicknames. "Rosey" entered Burroughs in the seventh grade and since then has not only held the "Best Dressed Man" title for six years running, but has also perfected his famous "iceball" lob for future tennis generations. He has also managed consistently to get his thumb into any and every activity humanly possible. Long will Don's eloquent oratory in behalf of the "Yearbook's" advertising campaign be remembered. Even longer, however, will we remember the great Haertter-Rosenfeld pre-election debates held at the senior boys' lunch table.

Although Don's predictions of things to come cannot always be trusted ("Stevenson will win in a landslide"), his sense of humor can be trusted to pull him through college with flying colors just as it made him the "B.M.O.C." of the class of '53.

FRANCES MAY

Frances is one of the cutest girls in the senior class, and is one of the few who never says I'm going on a diet tomorrow." Franny has good dramatic ability which was shown in this year's dramatics department's first presentation, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." She did a magnificent job of portraying Arabelle. Every Friday afternoon at 3:10 she can be found with her books in one hand, and her riding clothes and carrots in the other, on the way to the stable to ride her horse, Lassie. Franny has developed a strong interest in Washington University and is known for her regular Saturday night dates. Frances is set on going to the University of Alaska and is discouraged by nothing. Good luck Franny, we will miss you.

LEIGH SAMUEL STRASSNER

"Strass" is another little man with a big reputation, being known everywhere as the "Mighty Mite". For activities Leigh prefers Rifle Club, "World", and heckling Miss Rutledge. He hardly knows how to use the library since he's never there long enough to learn how. Besides being popular with the girls — tall or short, "Leighner" likes sports, especially tennis, having gained an "A" letter every year since ninth grade. It appears that "The Strassner" specializes in injuries as well as tennis. He has been heard saying "Anyone want to sign my cast? Pick a cast, any cast, I got a million of 'em." Perhaps the only thing that escapes Leigh's fabulous sense of humor is his studies. His record at JBS could only be surpassed by his future record at Princeton(?). These things show the character of a really swell guy that no one will ever quite forget.

MARILYN DEE MONTGOMERY

Marilyn, or "Monty" as she is better known, is one of those girls who gets along with everyone and for this reason has always been one of the most popular girls in our class. Besides being outstanding scholastically, she, as a junior, was president of her class and, as a senior, was the only girl on student court and was production manager of the "Yearbook." Another thing Marilyn will always be remembered for was her portrayal of Mary in the Christmas Pageant. We sometimes wonder how Marilyn can keep up with all these things and still be an ardent member in the "locker leaners" club. Whether Marilyn is dressed in a skirt and blouse or "peddle pushers" the senior girls still admire with envy her wonderful figure which she always manages to keep. Mr. Weinrich will miss Marilyn and her violin next year and so will the entire class of '53.

ROBERT HENRY THYM

Bob is a guy who has plenty to start with and is willing to make the most of what he has. This combination makes "Bulbnose" one of the most outstanding citizens in the class. His athletic ability and accomplishments need no explaining, for "Thymsky" is one of the greatest athletes ever to enter Burroughs. He has been named on all A.B.C. teams ever since the tenth grade, and he has had the distinct honor of being on the All State Football and Basketball teams. Academically, he is a good student and participates well in school functions and activities. He is a member of the Rifle Club and F.B.E.'s science club. He was a justice on the court in the eleventh grade, and this year he was Chief Justice. If you were to sum up Bob's character in a few words, you would say that he's a "natural" at everything he does, and you can be sure that he will always be a success.

JANET ETHEL NEUHOFF

Janet's success as Henrietta in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" has given her another claim to fame. Underneath her Dresden-like beauty she portrayed a fiery quality which one would not have expected in gentle Janet, whom we have learned to know and admire. Janet is most responsive when her beloved Colorado is mentioned. She and her family go there as soon as summer vacation begins. There she puts forth her most strenuous efforts scaling mountain peaks, and she eloquently describes them with the least effort. She also seems to have an appreciation for the Western type men, and manages to blush discreetly when they are mentioned. No one knows the origin of her nicknames, "Schnur" and "Schnug", but they are used frequently by her intimate friends. Because of her gentle, friendly manner and her noteworthy scholastic record, Janet will very readily take to college life.

PETER NEWTON WALSH

Master Peter, that distinguished gentleman of English heritage, is by far the most well liked member of the senior class. His warm smile and friendly disposition have won him a place in the hearts of his classmates. Pete has been active in many phases of the school curriculum during his six years at Burroughs. A member of many championship athletic teams, "Smoke's" prowess in soccer and football will be sadly missed in the coming years. By no means are Master Petah's talents limited to athletics, for in his six years at Burroughs he has been able to maintain a high "B" average, and has participated in many activities including the Glee Club. The poker hounds of the senior class will also miss "Smoke", for some odd reason he has been always welcomed with opened arms to participate in a game of chance. Burroughs will hate to lose this senior, who has done so much for the school and made so many friends.

ELIZABETH ANN REINHART

Betsy's blue Ford station-wagon, her changing hair styles, her innumerable parties, her compensating for height with an extra amount of energy, and her ready laugh are things which make this gal easily distinguishable in any group. Betsy is never lukewarm on any subject, and has a very definite opinion on certain advisory discussions. As head of the committee for the class party, Betsy had the enthusiasm to make the party a great success. Among the Bird's notable accomplishments this past year was her ability to convince Mr. Weinrich of her musical talents. The reinforced Glee Club had a new life to it this year, as had all the groups where Bets was present. Besides possessing a good sense of humor, Betsy is known to be both understanding and helpful. When this gal leaves, the other students will certainly miss the bright spot which Betsy creates wherever she is.

DAVID JACKSON WARREN

"Hey fellas, guess who just won the Mexican Road Race," shouts Dave as he rushes into the advisory, waving a copy of the latest sports car magazine. In addition to being a charter member of the exclusive B.S.C.C. (Burroughs Sports Car Club) and having many other interests, Dave manages to hold down a B-plus average. How he does this is a source of amazement to his classmates, as he never seems to be doing homework. Dave's accomplishments are not limited to academics alone, for he is the co-editor of the "World" and was elected co-chairman of this year's Christmas Pageant. Since Dave entered our class in the ninth grade, he has gained a fine reputation as a hard worker, an excellent student, and a fine citizen of the school. These qualities which have made him such a standout at Burroughs will undoubtedly help him to be a success in whatever he does.

DORIS ELAINE ROWLAND

Angelic face, flashing dimples, and a ready smile — that's Elaine. She can be heard at any gathering with her inimitable "Oh — he's SO neat!" as she talks about tennis or Colgate. Known as the girl with the straightest hair in the class, every morning her voice with its faintly southern accent can be heard saying, "I was just too tired to put it up last night." We wonder if it was a phone call or homework that kept her up so late. An essential member of the "A" varsity hockey team, Elaine excels in all athletics she participates in. She did an outstanding job as the co-chairman for the Christmas Pageant last year. We'll always remember Elaine's contagious laugh, charm, sincerety, and enthusiasm.

RALPH BAEPLER WEINRICH

A candidate for the "most talented" is Bebe Weinrich, versatile scholar, athlete, and friend. Besides being one of the three ambitious Latin lovers who studied Virgil, Bebe passed and punted against Codasco last year and was an indispensable member of the "A" basketball team a year after he had been high scorer on the "B" five. In the spring Bebe soared to remarkable heights at the end of a pole — ten-six last season. Bebe, who plans to be a dairy farmer, delights in a stay in the country and the sight of a pedigreed Guernsey but looks askance at anyone using the word "farmer" too loosely. Bebe's talent and personality enable him to thrive in any atmosphere, the mist of an early morning poker game, the murkiness of a dance floor, the merriment of a party, or the meditation of a class room.

ELEANOR FRANCES ROWLAND

Usually late to school, Eleanor managed to tiptoe into advisory most of the time. This was difficult, for as soon as she appeared, Eleanor was bombarded with questions. "Did you eat last night? Did you get a phone call?" There is never a dull moment when she is around. Her car is usually filled with laughing girls, Meatball giggling the most. She is the only senior girl who could stay up all night and still be full of energy the next day. When everyone else falls asleep, Tububa becomes becomes literary-minded and writes letters to far away places. She did a marvelous job as managing chairman of the Leap Year Dance. Her activities ranged from chorus and sculpture to varsity teams. She was one of the first girls in the class to get her athletic medal, and will always be the first to be remembered by the class of '53.

PETER HAMILTON WEIR

Here is the sunniest disposition in the class. His attitude is reflected in all his activities. In class, for instance, Pete sits smiling, his mind seemingly free from scholarly thoughts, but comes up with the right answer whenever his name is called. Pete is present at all parties and can be spotted by his limp white bucks, low slung trousers, open coat, and flapping tie. And wherever ease of driving is wanted, Pete shows them how to compromise the effortlessness of an automatic transmission and the simplicity of a standard gear-shift.

Pete, however, is by no means easy-going. Last fall he played the full season as center on the "A" football team, and later the "Finnish Star" helped the "A" soccer team with his hard running and kicking. He will be an engineer, and, judging by the fine swimming pool he built last summer (Pete supervised all the digging, hauling, and pouring of cement) he will be a successful one.

JOAN SCHLUETER

Joanie's enthusiasm bubbles over for everything, and her smile is ready for everyone. Her short curly hair and blue eyes distinguish Joan in a crowd, and no one will ever forget her angelic face and mischievous smile. She will long be remembered by the senior girls for her original hen parties and cake-baking contests. As chairman of the senior girls advisory, her familiar remarks such as: "Hody, Hody", "Hi ya, Sam," and "All righty," create an atmosphere which is bound to enliven any sleepy-eyed senior girl. Joan excels in every field of athletics. She also has added much spark to the varsity "A" hockey team ever since ninth grade. We'll never forget Joan's spirit, loyalty, and, above all, her friendliness.

ALEXANDER JULES WEISSENBORN

Alex has been a stalwart member of the class of '53 since 'way back in '47. In a free moment "Wise" probably can be found with a wrench in his hand and his feet protruding from underneath a car. He has an absorbing interest in things mechanical and an enviable knowledge of the attendant mysteries. When not engaged in this, he may be found making the rounds in his favorite conveyance — a very warm Hudson — or raiding refrigerators. For two years Al has made his presence felt on the "A" football team and undoubtably would have given Codasco trouble this year were it not for his unfortunate shoulder injury early in the season. When summer arrives, all thoughts of school leave his mind and he is off to another one of his vacation jobs. We hear that oiler's job last summer was pretty tough, Al. This and more is Al, a great guy and one willing to lend you five — in case your supply of jelly beans runs low.

ANNE CARVER STRIBLING

If you hear someone saying, "It just can't be due today," it is Anne, trying to finish a history or English paper in advisory. In spite of this and her numerous activities, such as the "Review" and the "World", she gets very good grades. Her many interests include swimming, in which she is a whiz, astronomy, and eating Bohemian food. Varsity hockey teams couldn't get along without her, and she is also consistently on baseball and basketball varsities. Strib reads an impressive number of books and always sees the best plays at the American Theater. In addition to all these things, Anne has found time to meet most of the ministers in St. Louis. She is a wonderful friend to everyone, and we will always remember Anne's fantastic stories (which she swears are true), sense of humor, and most of all, her sensibility.

ROBERT ALLEN WOOD

Mr. Wood and his famous "A model" are a familiar sight on the Burroughs parking lot. It is not at all unusual to see him roar up the driveway and knock down a tree or drop a transmission. Besides his collection of cars, Rob has a huge number of records. During the time he does not spend visiting the record stores in Clayton, he can probably be found at school. Rob has been interested in a number of school activities in his six years at JBS. At present he is responsible for the fine pictures that grace the pages of the "World." He always has a quick remark ready for any situation. His plans are set on Washington U. at present, and it is sure that his interest and his exceptional ability in the field of business will make him a big success.

JOSEPHINE PUTNAM STURGIS

Joan is one of the outstanding girls in the senior class. She works hard at anything she tackles. As a fullback on the "A" hockey team, she sparked the team to many victories. Joan really packs a wallop when she swings a tennis racket. Being elected secretary of the assembly was no easy job, but our Joan did it! Argyles and letter-writing also have a definite purpose in her life. With this strenuous activity, she is the first asleep at slumber parties. Nobody can help liking Joan with her brown eyes, blond hair, and sparkling smile. These and her many other charming characteristics make her a wonderful friend and classmate.

ROBERT ALLEN WUNDERLICH

Bob entered JBS in the ninth grade and since then has established a scholastic record rating high in the class. At sports he has been very active in soccer and football, and his skill with golf clubs has proved most helpful to the squad. He has also demonstrated an "eagle eye" in the rifle and photo clubs. Although "Windy" lives thirteen long miles from school he arrives early every day, guided by the chrome-plated swan perched on the hood of his green Chevy. This on-time record stands true in everything he does. Undoubtedly, Washington University will welcome Bob's arrival next fall.

KATHERINE HELEN WALTON

Students who saw a slim brunette in the chemistry lab eating an apple or a candy bar, knew that it was "Cashmere Kath". Kathy is well-known for her various musical talents, to say nothing of her "cat" green convertible with her initials on the doors. Sincere and understanding, she always has a smile for everyone. It is a wonder how, for six years, Kathy has managed to eat so much and keep such a good figure. While we are wondering things, Kathy, how do you keep letters coming from different people at the same place? Speaking of letters and people, is it true that you want to go to Cornell? In spite of present male relationships, Kath insists that her hair is growing, and she will eventually lose her duck's tail. We don't have to say good luck to Kathy because she has all the potential abilities to do anything that she could ever want to do, but we won't forget Kath for a long time.

The seniors have come into their own this year. As a class, they have been more united than ever before, having had several enjoyable class parties. Who will ever forget our class hockey game, which the boys won! Pioneers in the Senior Room, the class set up the rules, assembled furniture, decided on the color scheme. Each advisory carried out a special project. The boys collected clothes and sent them to aid poverty-stricken Navajoes, while the girls made their Leap Year Dance strictly "Out of This World." As leaders of the school, the seniors have unquestionably proved their ability. The art, music, and dramatics departments, "World", "Review", and the "Yearbook" have felt the influence of the seniors. Under the leadership of the twelfth grade, interest in student government has been high, and John Burroughs has run smoothly. Without the seniors there would have been many gaps on athletic teams, and many victories would have been defeats.

Eleventh Grade

The Junior Class has come to the fore this year, as always, by taking part in every activity Burroughs has to offer. There was wide participation in student government, the mainstay of the school with representation on both Court and Council. Extra activities, too, were thoroughly covered, Glee Club, dramatics, and sculpture, being the most popular. Both boys and girls did exceptionally well in sports, taking part in the actual games with an undefeatable attitude and in the cheering section with strong spirit. This was proved when the juniors followed the team to Kansas City for the Pembroke game; they also managed to "whoop it up" while they were there. Finally, in working and earning money for the Junior Prom, they became even more united. Remember the paper drive in freezing weather, the boys' novel bake sale? As the juniors pass on to the "seniorship" next year, they will be sure to uphold the standard set by seniors before them, and may even surpass the mark.

Tenth Grade

The class of '55 entered the Senior School with a good showing of ability and enthusiasm. We are very proud of our many talented classmates, who have made important contributions in dramatics, art, music, and chorus.

The Christmas Pageant was designed by two members of our class. Many members of our class have taken part in the plays presented by the dramatics department this year. Both boys and girls have taken an active part in sports of JBS on the field and on the side lines. We are represented by the boys in the "A", "B", and "C" teams of football, basketball, soccer, baseball, tennis, and track.

We have continued to sponsor our foster child with money raised by contributions and from regular bake-sales in the past three years. The class party was a cleverly planned French Cafe scene, complete with orchestra, and proved the ability of this class to cooperate successfully in a social project. Many thanks are due to the parents and to our advisors, Miss Kopp and Mr. Sprague.

Ninth Grade

In our three years at Burroughs, we of the ninth grade feel that we have become an integral part of the school. We have taken part and are well represented in almost every phase of Burroughs' life. Under the excellent guidance of our advisors, Miss Fieselman and Mr. McConnell, we helped the seventh grade to feel more at home. We and the rest of the Junior School took a more active part in student government, protecting our rights of student citizenship early in the year. These are the accomplishments we are most proud of, and rightfully so.

In the years to follow, we would like to become a more unified group, for we realize the importance of this attribute.

By next year we will be both eager and capable of assuming the many important responsibilities of senior school life and a more active Burroughs life.

FIRST ROW: McBryde, DuBois, Marbury, Ward, Roudebush, Wehmiller, Albers, Sutherland, Sutter, Buckley.
SECOND ROW: Ryan, Mill, Byars, Dean, Wood, Jones, Marsh, Dubinsky, Behrens, Comfort, Birge, Howard.

Eighth Grade

This year the eighth grade has shown the school its willingness to participate in school affairs and has shown high school spirit. When the seniors were busy with semester exams, it got out an edition of the "World" which stressed its views about the Junior School in school government and in school affairs. The class of 1957 has been a valuable contributor in securing "Yearbook" advertisements and has met its high-reaching goal in the annual charity drive. In sports, it has supplied three players to the "C" football team and one to the "B" team. Eighth grade girls saw the need of a lost and found department, so they set up an efficient one in their advisory. With the able advice of our advisors, Mr. Schmitt and Mrs. Bruening, the eighth grade has shown the school that it can accomplish what it set out to do. The class of '57 is a united group, and it will bear watching in the coming years.

FIRST ROW: Adams, Frielingsdorf, Beam, Saslow, Womer, Caulkins, Foote, Lorenz, Loeffel, Riley, O'Leary.
SECOND ROW: Norris, Hunkins, Haven, O'Riley, Stroud, Aitkin, Pitzman, Cunliff, Kelley, Winfield, Lichliter, Wrench, B. Biggs, Goodman.

FOURTH ROW: Green, Dube, Eades, Wunderlich, Pelton, Pollock, Ettman, McCluney, Woods, Weber.
FIFTH ROW: Forbes, Neuhoff, Gregg, Bean, Lane, Oberbeck, Kieffer, MacRae, Schnure, Arneson.

Seventh Grade

The class of '58, under the friendly and expert guidance of Mr. J. A. Ophoven and Miss Irene Stafford, has adapted itself whole-heartedly to Burroughs' whos, whys and hows.

Judging by the eagerness with which the boys entered into the Army-Navy games and the girls swung their hockey sticks, the seventh grade will contribute many future Burroughs players.

The boys pledged $55.00 to the Charity Fund; the girls pledged $80.00. But in true seventh grade style both the boys and girls had brought in over $100.00 each when the money was counted. The girls also sponsored an Estonian foster child.

We know that Burroughs is giving a lot to us and we hope that we are adding something to Burroughs. With all our fire and steam, we are glad to be on the Burroughs team.

Academically, athletically and socially, the Class of '58 is never late!

Athletics

At Burroughs sports are offered to everyone, for they are considered a vital part of the education. Students participate in almost all sports till they reach the ninth grade. Then they participate in the "ABC" League sports. This gives them the excellent experience of acting in a clear minded fashion under pressure. Athletics thus are the third step in preparing the students for a full life after graduation.

Bombers in Action

"A" Football

The 1952 varsity football team, playing one of the toughest football schedules in recent years, rolled up a six and two record. Although many of last year's first string men had graduated and star end Bob Thym was sidelined due to an injury, the Bombers scored 172 points while holding the opposition to 84 points.

Lead by co-captains Gates Agnew and Gordon Philpott, the Bombers played hard football throughout the year. Outstanding performances came from tackles Bob Dubinsky and Bill Nichols, end Hewes Agnew, guard Pete Walsh, and backs Sandy McDonald, Jim Woods, and Hillis Howie. On two occasions the Blue and Gold didn't seem to have their usual fire, and those two games were the only black marks in this year's team record book.

J. B. S. 32, Chaminade 6

Playing their first game of the season, at Chaminade, the Bombers got off to a slow start as they were unable to score in the first quarter. Then, on an off tackle slant, Sandy McDonald scored the first touchdown of the season. Late in the period came Chaminade's only score when a Bomber fumble was run for a touchdown. Near the end of the first half, McDonald again scored. In the third period, a McDonald run and a Longstreet to Hewes Agnew pass counted twice more. Dimmitt added two conversions, and Jim Woods' interception added the final six points.

J. B. S. 14, Maplewood 0

The first quarter was the whole story of the game. A fifty-five yard march, highlighted by the hard running of the backs, gave the "Wolfemen" their first score. Hillis Howie scored on a 20 yard reverse. Pete Weir recovered a Maplewood fumble, and on the next play Sandy McDonald passed to Hewes Agnew for another TD. Joe Lintzenich added his second conversion, and the Blue and Gold led by 14 to 0. The rest of the game was marked by hard play by both sides, but no scores for either team.

"A" Football

J. B. S. 6, Principia 19

When Gordon Philpott ran the opening kickoff for a touchdown, it looked like the Bombers were on their way to an easy victory, but an aggresive Principia eleven had other ideas. Ken Donahue's 65 yard run gave Principia a 7 to 6 lead, midway in the first quarter. Two more Prin touchdowns made the score 19 to 6 at half time. The second half saw a "never say die" Burroughs eleven vainly try to catch the boys from Principia.

J. B. S. 20, Clayton 0

Bouncing back from last week's defeat, the "Wolfemen," playing possibly their best game of the seasan, rolled up their third win of the year. After Jim Woods intercepted a "Grayhound" pass, Gordon Philpott and Sandy McDonald teamed up for the first score. McDonald to H. Agnew passes added the final scores in the second and third periods respectively. Joe Lintzenich added two extra points. The outstanding point of this game, however, was the great play of the defensive team, which held Clayton to seven first downs.

"A" Football

J. B. S. 41, Mercy 0

After a seventy yard march to a TD, and Jim Wood's fifty yard TD run, the game turned into a tight defensive battle during the latter part of the first quarter and the entire second quarter. However, TDs by Jim Woods, Gordon Philpott, by way of his second kickoff return to pay-dirt, Bill Longstreet, and Hillis Howie blew the game wide open in the second half. The game was the biggest rout of the season.

J. B. S. 14, Western 13

Hard running and good offensive blocking gave the Bombers a close victory over a big Western team. Gordon Philpott scored the first touchdown and Joe Lintzenich added the first of two extra points. Western tied the score in the second quarter, and at half time it was 7 to 7. Sandy McDonald cracked over for the last Burroughs score at 14 to 13. The extra point was made, however, and that was the game. The defense again played excellently in coping with the larger Western line, in putting on a goal line stand.

J. B. S. 29, Dupo 0

Due to the fact that two members of the Pembroke football team contracted polio, the Bombers could not play the Kansas City team. Instead, they played their only night game of the season at Dupo. A safety and touchdowns by Howie and McDonald gave the Bombers a lead of 16 to 0 at the half time period. In the third period, two more touchdowns by McDonald ended the Bombers scoring. Philpott did not play in this game because he had a badly swollen arm from an injury received in the Western game. The hard running of the backs, however, made up for Philpott's absence.

J. B. S. 16, Country Day 46

Playing without the services of first string triple threat fullback McDonald the Blue and Gold found the big, aggressive, hard-running Country Day team, a little more than they could handle. Codasco jumped to a 6 to 0 lead early in the initial period. However, a safety and a Wienrich to Woods pass gave the Bombers a 9 to 6 lead. Then the Country Day offensive began to roll into high gear, and the half time score was 32 to 9, favor Country Day. The Bombers scored their last TD of the season when a pass from Weinrich bounced off the Codasco defender's foot into the hands of paydirt-bound Alan Hurkamp. Although the Bombers continued to fight hard, their efforts were in vain. The six straight victory string over Country Day had been broken, but to coin an old Country Day expression, "Wait 'till next year."

Credit must go to everyone on the team, for the first eleven could do nothing unless they had eleven more men to practice against. The skill and aggressiveness of the second string kept the first-stringers on their toes at all times. However, because there were fifteen men who saw most action, their names must be acknowledged. The first string consisted of Dimmitt, Hurkamp, and H. Agnew, ends; Nichols and Dubinsky, tackles; Walsh and McGinley, guards; Wier, center; G. Agnew, Woods, Howie, McDonald, Philpott, backs; Hunter, Harrison, Weinrich, playing in defensive spots. Besides having a good season, the Bombers placed men on the all ABC League Team. They were: G. Agnew, H. Agnew, Sandy McDonald, Pete Walsh, and Gordon Philpott.

The success of this year's team must be attributed, as in other years, to the fine coaching of Mr. Ray Wolfe and Mr. Tom McConnell. Through their untiring efforts, the team was made to work and play as a unit. To them goes the thanks of each and every man on the team.

Run it Through

"B" Football

This year the "B" team's season was only fair. Coached by Fred Broeg and Bill Huston, the Bulldogs won two, lost three, and tied one in the league contests. Also, the team had a .500 average in scrimages with St. Louis and Central.

In the first encounter the "Broegmen" met the Principia "Panthers" at the opponent's field. Although somewhat sloppy in the first half, Burroughs won by the score of 18 - 6. On the following Saturday, J. B. S. battled Western to a 0 - 0 tie on the Cadets' turf. The visitors made a beautiful goal line stand in the last two minutes of play. Their third game was a nightmare as an unsteady "B" team bowed to Codasco, 44 - 6, on their own field. C. D. S. scored 32 of their points in the first half.

The Bulldogs' play showed great improvement in the second round of league competition. They started off by tackling Principia 26 - 7. A week later the "Blue and Gold" dropped a closely contested game to Western 13 - 12. On a bright and clear day the "B" squad met Country Day in their finale. Although Burroughs outplayed them in the first half, a good Codasco team was victorious. The final score read C. D. S. 20, J. B. S. 9.

Although the season was not as successful as the players had hoped, the whole squad feels they have learned a great deal from coaches Breog and Huston.

"C" Football

The outlook for coaches Hank Prokoff and Fred Eiseman was not very good at the start of the 1952 season. There were only four returning lettermen, and, as a result, the team was quite green. But by the first game, the coaches had a fairly good, if small, team shaped up. These boys played a fine game against a bigger Principia team, but lost a heartbreaker as the "Black and Orange" crashed over in the last eight seconds of play. The next game was played at Western where the team, crippled by injuries and not at their best, was crushed, 33 - 6. In the third game, which was with Codasco, the "Eagles" were blanked by the score of 32 - 0. The team showed much improvement, but the C. D. S. boys were too big and fast.

The next game was the high point of the season. Before a large crowd on "Fathers Night," the "Eagles" avenged their former defeat at the hands of Principia by squeezing out a thriller, 7 - 6. The team came from behind on a long pass from Mac Weeks to end John Schneeburger, which set up a plunge for the score by fullback Dave Hardy. Hardy then dived over for the winning point.

Next week, the "C" team held a powerful Western eleven to 19 - 0.

The team now prepared for the big game with Country Day. Coach Prokop shook up the lineup and put heavier men in the backfield, endeavoring to bring the team's maximum speed and punch into play.

The "Eagles" were scored upon in the first few minutes of play. This was only the first of a long string of Codasco tallies as, one after another, the big backs crashed over with bruising interference. The "Eagles" finally ended up on the short end of a 32 - 0 score.

This gave the team a 1 and 5 record which does not look well on paper. However, coaches Eiseman and Prokoff, starting with a small bunch of green youngsters, shaped up a smoothly working, tough little outfit. Although the won-lost record isn't anything to boast about, the coaches did a fine job in giving the boys valuable training and experience, and we are sure that the boys will profit by it and come out with a much better record next year.

"A" Soccer

The Burroughs "A" soccer team rounded out its season with an impressive: seven won, three tied, and one lost. The team was ably coached by Mr. Montgomery and Les Hatchard. The team got some very able assistance from some of last year's "B" team. Jim Woods led the scoring with fifteen, while the rest of the forwards and halfbacks split up the rest of the points evenly.

CHAMINADE

The "A" team scored a decisive 4 - 1 victory over Chaminade in the first game of the season. The team started slowly in the first half but got started after a goal by Woods. The score at the half was 2 - 0, and the game went to Burroughs from then on.

COUNTRY DAY

Playing on an icy field at Codasco, Burroughs scored a 3 - 0 victory over the Brown Roaders. Burroughs got off to a slow start, but after the first ten minutes the "Mounty-Men" finally got started and coasted through the second half with a 3 - 0 edge.

PRINCIPIA

Getting off to the usual slow start, Burroughs could not do much against Prin in the first meeting. In the second half, however, the team got started and pushed three shots past the Prin goalie. One of the highlights of the game was the fine defensive play of Prin's half back Carl Osterloh.

MERCY

Starting at its usual slow pace, Burroughs found itself having a hard time with Mercy. Tom Bitting finally scored on a foul shot. The lead was to be short lived, however, as Mercy pushed one past Dubinsky just before the half. The second half was hard fought but neither team could score.

WESTERN

Playing on an extremely fast but windy field, Burroughs tied the speedy Cadets in a game at Alton. During the first half, the play took place mostly in the center of the field, but Woods was left open long enough to score. In the second half, the Cadets outscored Burroughs 2 - 1, but the game ended in a 2 - 2 tie.

"B" Soccer

Coached by Ray Beckman and Mr. Martin Parry, the "B" soccer team finished second in the league standings; winning three, losing two and tying two.

The Bulldogs' first game was a non-league tilt with Thomas Jefferson. When the final whistle blew, the score was tied 2 - 2, and the coaches of both teams agreed to play an overtime. The first overtime was scoreless, but in the second one, the visitors to J. B. S. scored to clinch the game 3 - 2. Next, the Blue and Gold suffered its second defeat at the hands of Codasco. The game was played on the victors' field, in the snow. The final outcome was 4 - 1. In the following game, the "B" teamers came to life to defeat the Kaydets of W. M. A. 2 - 1. They then trounced Principia in a one-sided contest 2 - 0. Codasco was the Bulldogs' first opponent in the second round of league play. J. B. S. avenged their previous defeat by tying C. D. S. 1 - 1. Burroughs then coasted to a 2 - 1 victory at the expense of Principia. In the last contest of the season, the "B" team played host to greatly improved Western team, and tied them 1 - 1.

The successful season was due, not only to the fine coaching, but also to the second year men who led the team. They were: Bob Allen, Dick Allen, Relton McCarroll, Harry Johnston, Neil Horner, and Charles Dempsey.

Fischer Sinks One

The John Burroughs 1952-53 "A" basketball team, one of the most amazing in the annals of Burroughs history, compiled the best record ever, winning 27 and losing only one. Here are a few of the achievements of the outstanding team coached by Ray Wolfe: they were the ABC League co-champions with the only team that beat them, Country Day; they were the winners of the Principia Invitational Tournament for the second consecutive year; and later in the season they made a clean sweep of the three most important tournaments, the St. Louis Sub-regional, the Elvins Regional, and the Missouri State, and as a result they attained the title of Missouri State Class "B" Champions.

The team which many people thought could not match the record of the 1951-52 team began their successful season by defeating Chaminade, 58 - 43. Two days later, the comparatively inexperienced Bombers met their first difficult test, the game with Brentwood. Although behind 41 - 27 as the fourth quarter began, the squad showed the first sparks of their future success by scoring 21 points in the last period. Pete Fischer, who sustained the last period drive, ended with 13 points. The final score was 58 - 53, Burroughs.

On December 9, Burroughs initiated their play in the Principia tournament by easily downing Jennings, 51 - 24. Three days later they met the strong Joe Hauser led Lutheran squad, and by combining excellent team-work and the remarkable scoring of Captain Bob Thym and Gordon Philpott, who combined to score 48 points, Burroughs won, 56 - 39. The following night the Bombers really began to move as they whipped highly rated McKinley in the finals. Bob Thym continued his outstanding play by scoring his second consecutive game of 27 points. He also held Harold Alcorn to six field goals.

ment, the Bombers were not idle over the holidays; quite the contrary, they had many alumni games which helped the march to success by solving many problems.

As the ABC League season opened, the Bombers with five victories played guest to rival Country Day School. This heartbreak game proved to be the only defeat of the entire campaign. The thrilling game went into over-time after regulation play ended with a 54 - 54 tie. In a wild over-time, Jack Hennessey scored 5 points to bring the Rams to triumph, 60 - 59. After defeating University City, 51 - 22, Lutheran returned to near victory against the Bombers with Joe Hauser scoring 28 points; however, the Bombers flashed that never-to-be-forgotten teamwork as they came from behind — a habit they were to employ constantly as the season progressed.

In their second ABC League encounter, Philpott and Thym led the team to victory, 61 - 30 at Principia. Against Mercy the J. B. S. squad displayed real power as they won their ninth victory of the year, 78 - 61. Bebe Weinrich came into his own as the small guard pumped in 21 points, closely following Thym's 22 points. Also playing the next game at home, the Bombers got off to a slow start in their ABC League game with Western, but by fast breaking, eventually won, 61 - 53. Travelling to Kansas City with many supporters accompanying them, Burroughs defeated a scrappy Pembroke team. The whole team played, and almost everyone scored. Playing at Chaminade the Bombers gained their seventh straight victory winning 47 - 30.

On February 4, hoping for revenge, the Wolfmen invaded the howling jam-packed Country Day gym. In an unruly, hotly contested game, Burroughs sank an unbelievable 74% with Thym scoring 26 points and Weinrich 24. By now there was no doubt that Coach Wolfe had molded a smoothly-working team which was going to be difficult to beat.

Seven days later everyone saw action as St. Francis Borgia became the fourteenth victim. Similarly, Principia fell to the Bombers at home, 57 - 34, as the game emphasized the well-developed attack the team had acquired during the year.

Going for a tie in the ABC League, the Wolfmen went to Alton to meet the Cadets of Western Military Academy in the final game of the season. Again Philpott, Thym, and Weinrich carried the scoring load effectively with the fine play of Gates Agnew contributing to the triumph. With the close of the season, the Wolfmen boasted a record of 16 - 1, admirable for any team.

Having achieved notable success, Burroughs entered the State tournament with confidence and a will to win. The Bombers' first opponent was outclassed Maryland Heights who lost 103 - 38 with John Burroughs second string players playing most of the game. The score established a new high for a John Burroughs team. The following night the Wolfemen met Coyle, a stronger but also outclassed team, as every member of the squad scored for the second straight tournament game. The score was 63 - 40. In the semi-finals, Bob Thym reached the season high by gaining 35 points, to break up a hard fought game which saw miraculous Bayless out court shooting. Meeting Brentwood for the third time, Burroughs led all the way in a scrappy contest which saw Philpott make 23 points and Weinrich, 14, to lead to a 66 - 50 victory, the fifteenth straight.

Burroughs traveled to Elvins, Missouri, for the Regional and began by playing a sloppy game against Wellsville; however, superior height enabled the Bombers to win 65 - 43. Continuing the tournament grind, two nights later Owensville was defeated 62 - 46 as Bob Thym continuing his fine play scored 23 points, as the night before. In the finals Burroughs met Brentwood for the fourth time, and to the dismay of Don Burt's squad they lost again, 54 - 45. Teamwork marked the entire game and it looked as if Burroughs was regaining its finesse.

With Sub-regional and Regional victories behind them, the Wolfemen journeyed to Cape Girardeau and the Class "B" State Tournament. The first round game was an 81 - 48 victory in which Bob Thym scored 32 points followed by the consistent Gordon Philpott with 14 points. In the second round quarter finals, Burroughs met and outclassed Adrian, 77 - 41, with a well-rounded attack. Bebe Weinrich and Bob Thym combined to produce the scoring. Burroughs moved into the semi-finals as did Morehouse. As the game began, the Morehouse team moved quickly ahead and gained momentum as they progressed. The half time score found the Bombers down 18 - 34 with Joe Todd, Morehouse sharpshooter, having done most of the damage. By the end of the third period, Morehouse had what looked like an insurmountable lead, 58 - 45. At one point in the fourth period, Morehouse moved out to an 18 point lead; however, the Bombers did not give up, but began pecking away at the Morehouse lead. As time grew shorter, the lead diminished also. The remembrance will linger long in the minds of all who watched and recall how stunning a comeback fight the Bombers staged to cop the game in the last half-minute

The "B" team, coached by Mr. Elmer Hirth, ended the season with a 6 - 8 record. In league play, the "B" team tied for second place with a 3-3 record. The only veteran was John Hobbs. The rest of the first string consisted of boys from last year's "C" team, namely Tad Foote, John Esserman, Mickey Hill, and Ted Greensfelder.

Free Throw for Tad

The "B" team got off to a slow start, dropping the first three games to Chaminade, Brentwood, and Clayton, by scores of 19-31, 30-39, and 25-40. Then, in the first league game of the year, the Bulldogs downed Codasco by a score of 36-35. The game went into overtime, and it took a long side shot by Mickey Hill to win in the last few seconds of the game. The "B" team lost the next two games, one to U. City by a score of 35-38, and the other to Lutheran by a score of 38-42. In the next game, although center Tad Foote was ill, the "B" teamers beat Mercy 30-27. The following game was a league game against Western, the "B" champs. Burroughs lost in a hard-fought match, 29-33. Then the Bulldogs beat Principia 34-29 and rolled over Chaminade 44-30 before losing to a strong Codasco team 25-33. The next game was against Thomas Jefferson's "A" team, and Burroughs won 35-18, everyone participating in the game. The "B" team once again overcame Principia by a score of 41-22 but after that lost to Western 33-50. John Hobbs was high-scorer for the season with a total of 102 points, a 7.3 game average.

"C" Basketball

The "C" team this year had a good season, not from the standpoint of record, but from the standout of improvement for the future.

In the opening game the team was beaten by Wydown. All but three of the boys on the whole team were playing their first game in real competition. The final score was 43-18, but in spite of this, everyone gained some good experience. In the next game, with Country Day, the team played its best game of the year, defeating the strong C. D. S. team by a score of 36-33. In this game they showed more consistency than at any other time during the year. In the third game of the year the team slowed down some and lost to a weak Principia team in double overtime, 30-28. In this game the team lost at the free throw line, making only six out of eighteen tries. In the next game they played better, but were unable to cope with Chaminade's height and lost by a score of 29-21 In the next game with Western, the team resumed its winning ways by defeating the Cadets 24-18. The next game was a moral victory because Lutheran had three boys over six feet on their starting team while Burroughs had no one within two inches of six feet on the whole team. Against odds like this, the 47-40 score they lost by is not bad at all. The next game brought disappointment as the team played one of its poorest games and lost to Country Day 34-19. In the second game with Wydown the team played better but still lost by an overwhelming score of 45-23. In the next game the team finally resumed winning as it crushed Principia 37-29. In this game Dave Hardy performed an incredible feat as he scored 13 points in the first quarter. Then he slowed up and wound up the game with only 15 points. Then the team played Chaminade again. The game was close most of the way with Chaminade ahead by just one point after three quarters. But at the start of the fourth period, Chaminade scored seven quick points from which Burr-

"A" Baseball

The '52 Burrough's "A" baseball team, while compiling just an average 6-6 won-lost record, still managed to tie for the ABC League title and have a successful season considering the many unexpected injuries and illnesses that hit the squad all spring. The Bombers, ably coached by Tom McConnell, finished the season strongly, indicating that, even without the services of '51 regulars Bob Thym and Bill Agnew, they were capable of playing a good brand of baseball.

The "A" baseball team started the season on a sour note, dropping its first two games to good Normandy and Chaminade squads by the respective scores of 11-2 and 4-1. The erractic Bombers then pulled themselves up to a .500 won-lost percentage by taking Lutheran, 7-2, and Western M. A., 6-1; however, luck did not stay with them as they lost close league decisions to Country Day, 5-3, and Principia, 1-0. Once again, the Bombers came back to trounce an outclassed aggregation from U. City, 10-3, but then they fell back into a slump, losing again to Chaminade, 8-3, and also to Clayton, 3-1. At this point in the season, with a 3-6 overall record and a 1-2 league mark, the outlook for McConnell's charges seemed dismal; however, making a strong comeback once again, the Bombers won their last three games, all league contests, to finish the season with a 6-6 overall record and a 4-2 mark in league play. The victims of this final Bomber surge were Country Day, 9-1, Principia, 8-7, and Western, 6-4.

Although the hitting on the team was not strong, the Bombers were hurt most by a lack

"B" Baseball

The "B" baseball team of John Burroughs, most ably coached by Mr. Bill McCabe and Mr. Fred Eiseman Jr., finished a successful 1952 campaign with seven victories and four losses. The team ran up a winning streak of seven straight victories and did not lose a game on its home field. The first three games were lost to Codasco, Lutheran, and Chaminade, respectively, the Codasco and Lutheran games with the help of a "braille" umpire. Then began the string of seven wins. First and most satisfying was a 5-4 victory over Webster Groves, the best team to be faced all season. Next came an easy triumph over Western, 7-2. Following this was a free-for-all contest with University City, with Burroughs victorious 10-7. Then, after tuning up on Clayton, 11-3, the Eiseman Eagles came back to trounce Codasco, 7-6. This game was marked by Joe Lintzenich's grand-slam home run, Burroughs winning in the last inning when the Codasco pitcher walked in the decisive run. In the next game J. B. won 9-8 in a wild affair at Western, and following this was a well-pitched 4-1 victory over Chaminade. In the season's finale, the team was swamped by that very good Webster team 7-0, whom we had previously beaten at home.

"A" Tennis

The 1952 edition of the "A" tennis team ended their ten match schedule with a 5-5 record and with third place in league competition. Also, they surprised tournament experts by copping second place in the Country Day Invitational at the end of the season. The squad was again under the guidance of Mr. Elmer Hirth.

The Bombers pinned two losses on Beaumont 4-1 and 5-0 and two on Western by scores of 5-0 and 3-1. Burroughs split with U-City, losing 3-2 and winning 3-2. The team absorbed 5-0 and 3-2 beatings from Principia's depth laden outfit, and 3-1 and 4-1 trouncings from Codasco's championship group.

The team usually went with Leigh Strassner, Don Rosenfeld, and Pete Fischer in the first, second, and third singles positions respectively. Cliff Birge, Joe Eades, and Bob Dubinsky were called upon mainly for doubles.

The squad, which sustained numerous injuries throughout the season, did not lack in experience but rather depth. Last year's graduation hurt the Bombers more than any other team in the league, but the 1952 ceremonies will leave the team with their first three singles players and a wealth of excellent "B" teamers from which to select a team. Mr. Hirth will again be on hand to coach, and opposition should find this group of players the city's most outstanding netsters.

"B" Tennis

The 1951-52 tennis season was a most successful one for the "B" team. Coached by Mr. Horner, the team won eight and lost one, tying for the league title with Country Day. It was the best season the team has ever had. The season started with a victory from Principia on the loser's courts, 4-1. The Cadets were taken early 4-0. The next match was an important one against Country Day on their courts. It was a hard fought match all the way, but Codasco won out in the end 3-1. In the following match the "B" team defeated Thomas Jefferson 3-2. The first match of the second half of the season was won from Principia 3-2. The following Wednesday the "B" team defeated Lutheran 4-2 playing six matches instead of five. Next in line was Thomas Jefferson. They were again defeated 3-2.

Then came the all important match with Codasco, which was to decide the league race. Perry Bascom easily finished off his opponent 6-1, 6-2. Calvin Moore playing second singles, handily defeated his adversary 6-3, 6-1. Bill Wood in the third singles slot was extended to three sets but finally won 7-5, 4-6, 6-3. Alan Goldman and Calvin Moore won the first doubles match, but Jan Mares and Dick Weil lost in second doubles 6-3, 6-2, leaving J. B. S. with a 4-1 victory. The "B" Teams then finished the season off with a 4-1 victory over Western.

Golf

While some students pounded the asphalt, the golfers trod soft green fairways; while some students leaped in sand pits, the golfers strolled through bunkers; and while some slaved and sweated profusely, the golfers were fanned by the gentle winds of the golf course. These athletes competed with other schools during the season: they made impressive personal gains, for golf is purely an individual effort, and they earned the respect of rival golfers by exhibiting coolness and skill in match play. The golfers who challenged each other and participated in interschool play were seniors John Studt, George Gardner, and Bob Rodgers and juniors Tom Bitting, Frank Gladney, and Bob Wunderlich. Gardner and Studt alternated in the first two posts, while Rodgers, Gladney, and Wunderlich fought for the remaining three. Bitting showed remarkable ability to compete during the season as he ascended to second place in May.

Early in the season the team was set back by Codasco, 4-1, but the irons straightened themselves and the putts started dropping as they finished the season by taking four matches while losing only one more.

Mr. Stephens Hinrichs, of course, was the one who aided the chronic slicers and put many hours in at the tee with the non-competitors.

Track

This year the "fleetfeet" men of John Burroughs, under the very able coaching of Ray Wolfe and John Acker, wound up the season with one of the greatest track records in the history of the school by winning both the ABC and State championships. The season was highlighted by such performances as those of Bill Agnew, who took two firsts and a second in the State meet.

The first meet of the year was a triangle meet with Clayton and Brentwood. Here the Wolfmen showed their great ability by walking away with the meet, even beating the combined scores of both Clayton and Brentwood. However, this margin was not always to stay quite so large. This was shown three days later at Western where Burroughs had to win the last event in order to edge out the cadets by a score of 57-2/3 to 55-1/3.

Next came the "B" district meet at Taylor Field where J. B. had another close call, this time edging out Chaminade by a half point to take second place and an invitation to the State meet. The meet was won by Principia, but this superiority over Burroughs didn't last long, for three days later Burroughs had a meet with Principia and emerged victorious by a score of 58 to 55.

Then followed a meet between Burroughs and their long time rivals, Codasco, on the latter's track. Here the J. B. squad had their greatest success of any dual meet, downing the team with the Red and White colors by a

During the football season, little Army won over little Navy in every game, and most of them were by large scores. Bobby Bean and Don Schnure led Army to their wins while Charles Grigg and John Woods led the losers.

At the start of the season, big Navy won almost every game. Near the end of the season, big Army came back strongly to tie for the championship. Johnny Patton and Chris Gale sparked Navy, while Kirk Larkin and Dave Bricker stood out for Army. The teams were ably coached by Tom McConnell and Ray Wolfe.

Field Day

A time when many people give special attention to the weather is the early hours of Field Day. From about nine o'clock until noon, anxious eyes were occasionally cast toward the clouds, then returned to track and field events. Parents came to share with their children the half-day holiday. With no restraint on yelling, slight attention to care of clothing, it was an exhibition of inhibition by some and extreme effort by others. How many records were broken by John Cotsworth? 3

We voted to continue the innovations added to the 1952 field day program, such as the cross-country steeplechase and the boys' bicycle races. Another enjoyable feature was the picnic luncheon. Loose collars, no coats or ties for the boys and an opportunity for many girls to improve their coeducational advantages are supporting arguments for a repetition of the picnic luncheon.

"A" Varsity Hockey

The "A" Varsity Hockey team had a good season this year in winning one game, tying two, and losing one. The first game, which was a disappointment to all of the team members, was lost to Villa Duchesne 1-3. Burroughs fought hard but couldn't down Villa's outstanding team. Four days later the game with City House was won 2-1. Next came the game with Mary Institute, and, although both teams played hard and well, they were so evenly matched that the score ended up 0-0. The last game with Principia was also tied at 1-1. Two of the games were played at Burroughs and the other two away from school. The team was fortunate this year in having nice weather for every game. The team spirit and sportsmanship were excellent this year, which was partly due to the very able coaching done by Mrs. Bruning and Miss Beard.

"B" Varsity Hockey

The 1952 season was a good one for the "B" Varsity team, which had a record of two ties and two wins. The first game of the season was played against Villa, the score being 2-1 in favor of Burroughs. With this favorable start, the "B" team went on to a tie with Mary Institute, 1-1. The Principia team was knocked out by a score of 3-1 in a very exciting game The unscheduled game with City House ended with a 0-0 tie when the game was called because of darkness.

The "B" team had excellent teamwork among its players, and this, plus the girls' fighting spirit, accounted for much of its success. The inners, Marilyn Montgomery and Vicki Liebson, were the players who scored the most goals.

"A" Varsity Basketball

The girls "A" Varsity Basketball did a very good job this year. Since last year's team was almost entirely composed of seniors, the outlook for this year was not very good. One look at the 1953 record shows that the loss of the seniors was not half the disaster that it seemed. This year's team won just as many games as did last year's, winning three out of the four games and losing only to Villa Duchesne, one of the best teams of the state.

Under the expert coaching of Mrs. Bruening, the team developed into a group of fine basketball players. When they got onto the floor, the teamwork and fighting spirit often pulled the game away from teams that depended on individual players.

The basketball season proved to be a very profitable one, for the team always played in the spirit of fun and good sportsmanship.

"B" Varsity Basketball

This season was not a happy one for the "B" Varsity. Their first game was with Principia at Burroughs. Both teams played hard, and the score was very close throughout the game. In the last few seconds of the game, the Prin forwards began to make those baskets count, and they won the game by four points.

The next game was also at Burroughs, against Mary Institute, and this time the Burroughs team was able to hold the high spot. However, in their next game they were again set back, this time by Villa. The fast-moving Villa players were too much for Burroughs, but, nevertheless, our team managed to keep the score down to only a seven point loss.

Senior Girls Sports

The seniors this year, due to skill, team spirit, the will to win, and hard work, have had a fairly successful year in athletics. Everyone participated in hockey, basketball, soccer, and modern dancing, and some girls entered into volleyball, softball, swimming, and tennis. The ability of the class was shown by their good representation on all of the varsity teams and participation in the various playdays.

In the intramural games, the seniors won eight games, lost four, and tied three. This score is the total of the hockey, basketball, and volleyball games.

The "A" team defeated Mary Institute in hockey and basketball but tied Villa Duchesne in hockey. The "B" team tied Mary Institute and lost to Villa Duchesne in hockey.

Junior Girls Sports

This year the Junior class has participated in practically all sports. The enthusiasm and will to win shared by all its members have resulted in fine team spirit.

During the hockey season, the girls were not so successful, as the "A" and "B" class teams were defeated by Mary Institute and Villa. Although the teams suffered loss, the class spirit was aroused. In basketball both teams lost to Principia, but in playing Villa, the "A" team won, while the "B" again lost. During winter in addition to basketball, volleyball, and soccer, a considerable amount of time was devoted to modern dance, in which many girls showed much interest along with some talent. As winter advances into spring the girls are looking forward to softball, archery, and track.

10th Grade Girls Sports

This year the sophomore class has been outstanding because of the many girls on varsity teams. In the class basketball games with Mary Institute, Principia, and Villa Duchesne, both the "A" and "B" teams played to the best of their abilities whether they won or lost.

During the winter months, besides basketball, there was modern dance and soccer. All the girls had five weeks of every sport, rotating through all three groups.

Everyone was eager for spring to arrive so they might have softball and track. Whether in hockey, soccer, modern dance, basketball, softball or track, the sophomore class will be recognized for their fine play and sportsmanship.

9th Grade Girls Sports

The ninth grade girls won most of their games this year. During the hockey season the "A" team won from Mary Institute and Villa. The "B" team tied both. In basketball they lost to Villa but made up for the loss by beating both Mary Institute and Principia. They did not have very much time for any one sport because there were so many different sports: hockey, basketball, soccer, modern dance, softball, and track. They had a very good record this year, though, and it is hoped that they will continue to keep it in their remaining years at Burroughs.

The Blue Team

Although the Blue Team had trouble standing up against the mighty Gold Team, the Blues had good team spirit. The Blues, even though the underdogs, also have to admit that their teamwork was that of exceptional quality. The Middies are proud to say that they consider themselves no less than modern Atalantas of Burroughs. The Blue Team is anxious to play the Golds in the spring and summer sports this year. The team is a sure winner from beginning to end, and if ever a "homer" comes sailing by, you can be sure it will have come from a Blue's bat. So come on Blues . . . let's show those Goldies what a real team looks like.

The Gold Team

The Gold team has again shown its terrific form in sports this year. The eighth grade Gold team succeeded in beating eighth grade Blue in both the hockey and the basketball tournaments. To add to the foe's despair the seventh grade Gold team also won the hockey and soccer tournaments. They will admit the Blue team has put up a good fight but, with such obviously overwhelming competition, has had to surrender to their surpassing competitors.

The team is confident, as in the past, that the leading contender for next year's titles, whether in soccer, hockey, baseball or basketball, will be none other than the seventh and eighth grade Gold teams.

THIRD ROW: Goodman, Calkins, Burkham, Aitkin, Beam, Cunleff, Foote.

FIRST ROW: Berger, Morrison, Hamilton.
SECOND ROW: Thomas, Flint, Brownlee, Steiner.

Cheerleaders

This year the cheerleaders added much to the school spirit at athletic events. They were conscientious about their duties and did their best to see that every game was represented by cheerleaders. They practiced under the able supervision of Mr. Hirth on Wednesdays and Fridays before school and frequently gave assemblies to teach new cheers and to strengthen the orgainized cheering of the student body.

The Ski Club

The Ski Club has been a very popular activity this year. Many students, both beginners and more experienced skiers, have come to its numerous meetings, at which movies were shown and skiing experiences were related. During Spring vacation the group set out for the highlight of the club — ten days of skiing and fun at Aspen, Colorado.

FIRST ROW: Brownlee, Baer, Schlueter, May.
SECOND ROW: Willis, Woods, Haase, Bauer, Sturgis, Mr. Hinrichs.

Activities

At Burroughs the student may chose from a wide and varying scope of activities. Each one of these activities represents an opportunity for the student to increase his knowledge of a specialized interest under the direction of a qualified faculty member. These activities are the second important step in producing graduates with well rounded educations.

The Student Council

Important Deliberations.

The Student Council of the year 1952-53 was one of the most successful in years. It organized the school budget and pushed the Charity Drive record up over last year's $938 to $1064. For the first time in recent years the Council took decisive steps to insure that every advisory without an elected member was represented on the Council. One of the most notable accomplishments of this year's executive body was the revision of the study hall rules. Realizing that in previous years the study halls were noisy despite no-talking rules, and that students were congregating in the halls to talk, the Council proposed that the new rules should allow talking, regulated, if need be, by the administrators. It was also proposed that, to give the administrators greater control over the entire study hall, they should sit at opposite ends of the study hall instead of together at the front of the room. These rules were passed by the Assembly, and were followed by a remarkable decline in the number of Court cases.

Much of the credit for the good work of the Council must go to its president, Gordon Philpott, and secretary, Georgia Kurrus. Next year's Council will be fortunate indeed if it has two such able leaders and a body of as willing, interested members as those of this year's Council.

Mr. Weinrich, MacDonald, Thym, Fordyce, Harrison, Agnew, Montgomery.

The Student Court

The Judicial branch of the John Burroughs student government had a very active year. The close elections in the Spring found Bob Thym as Chief Justice, Jim Harrison as Clerk of the Court, Cam Fordyce, Bailiff, and Marilyn Montgomery, Sandy McDonald and Hewes Agnew, Justices.

Under the new study hall plan few cases were reported, but these always proved to be interesting and sometimes very complex. First offenders usually wrote compositions on subjects relating to their offense, while habitual study hall disturbers usually had to come to "Saturday Sessions", and they were also removed from unsupervised study halls.

A new idea of reporting cases in the "World" was used this year. This helped to keep the number of cases down. Under the excellent supervision of Mr. Ralph Weinrich, whose opinions were most helpful, the Court did an outstanding job of upholding the constitution and trying offenders.

Guilty or Innocent?

The Athletic Council

The Athletic Council is composed of eight students, a boy and a girl from each grade, ninth through twelfth. Under the supervision of Mr. Ray Wolfe, the Council makes plans for the Athletic Banquet of Field Day, decides what athletic awards are to be given, and discusses other problems which might arise in regard to athletics.

Steering Committee

Appointed annually by the Student Council, the three members of the Steering Committee are responsible for preparing each week the schedule of events for the following week. This year the members of the committee were Norma Mendle, David Warren, and Ann Zopf.

The Social Committee

This year every member of the Social Committee, including our faculty advisor Mr. Hirth, worked hard to put on a good "ABC" Football Dance. The resulting attendance and overheard comments make it appear that the work was well rewarded.

The committee members were: Laura Reasor, Tad Foote, Mimi Belz, Harry Johnston, Susie Berger, and Frank Gladney.

The Yearbook

This 1953 Yearbook is brought to the students through the efforts of the five Junior and five Senior staff members who have worked since before school started to make this review of the past year's activities and to give an illustrated record of the things one might otherwise forget. This year the staff has tried to put out a bigger, better, less expensive Yearbook. The staff hopes that as much enjoyment will be had in the reading as has been had in the producing.

The World

The World, under the excellent faculty direction of Mr. Parry, made great strides this year. It was edited by Frank Gladney and Dave Warren and had a staff of fifteen sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The "World" had competition from a new paper, "The Burroughs Citizen," which it met with enthusiasm and vigor.

The Review

The Review board selects from the compositions it reads, the most outstanding and publishes them in the "Review." The board is composed of students in the Senior School who are interested in writing. The editors this year are Kathryn Walton and Janet Neuhoff. Miss Damon is the faculty advisor.

FIRST ROW: Megginson, Belz, Lolly Burroughs, Laura Burroughs, Carr, May, Hill, Bauer.
SECOND ROW: Longstreet, Neuhoff, Thomas, Weber, Goodson, Robinson, Bland, Mr. Arnold.
THIRD ROW: Beckers, MacDonald, Greensfelder, Summers, Mesker, Johnston, Gladney.

Dramatics

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street"

This year Burroughs welcomed a man to head the Dramatics department, Mr. Wayne Arnold. Under his direction the Dramatics department has had one of its most successful years.

The first play given was Rudolf Besier's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Georgia Kurrus and Jim Harrison did a marvelous job as Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. They were ably supported by the rest of the cast, which included Frank Gladney as Mr. Barrett and Janet Neuhoff as Henrietta.

The second full-length play to be given was "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Mr. Arnold did something new in the production of this play; he secured actors from grades other than ten, eleven, and twelve, and gave two seniors, Frances May and Lexie Hill, experience in helping direct. Some of the cast were Kerstin Larsson as Titania, Frank Gladney as Oberon, Janet Neuhoff as Helena, Susie Thomas as Hermia, Jim Harrison as Lysander, Buck Summers as Demetrias, and John Esserman as Bottom. The play was a success not only from the acting standpoint but also from the standpoint of scenery and costuming, which were well worth the preparation they took.

There were also two tenth grade plays given and an operetta in the Spring.

Senior Glee Club

The Senior Glee Club, consisting of over seventy members, has completed another fine year under the very able direction of Mr. Ralph Weinrich. The year began with excellent performances of such songs as "O Praise Ye God", "Come All You Worthy Gentlemen", and on Fathers', Sons', and Daughters' Night "I'm So Glad." Next, the Glee Club made several recordings which were broadcast on KWK's "High School Review." Then followed the traditionally superb Christmas celebration, which this

Junior Chorus

The Junior Chorus, consisting of ninety-two members, has again completed a successful year under the excellent direction of Mr. Ralph Weinrich. This year the level of talent in the Junior Chorus was unusually high, as their performances showed. The Junior Chorus entertained at numerous school functions: the Fathers' Dinner, the Christmas Pageant, the "Friends of John Burroughs" meeting, and the Spring Concert. Among the pieces they have sung are several of Brahm's Folksongs, "Behold

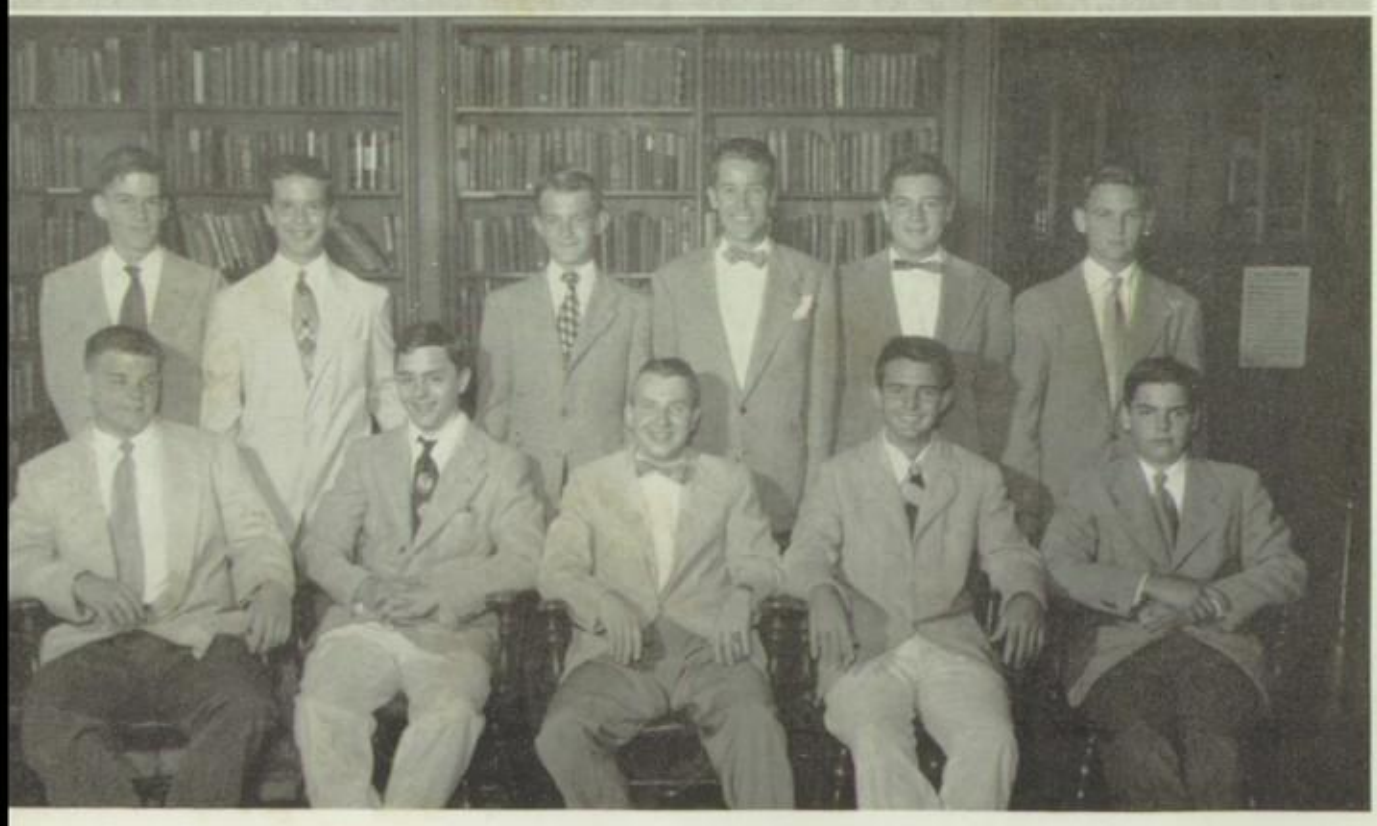
The Orchestra

This year has been one of expansion for the orchestra. Mr. Weinrich has concentrated on getting a lot of new people started on instruments, most of whom are seventh graders. The beginners have their own rehearsals, preparing them for membership in the regular orchestra.

Assembly Planning Committee

The Assembly Planning Committee of 1952-53 has provided many assemblies which have been both educational and interesting. Meeting on Tuesday mornings in the advisory period, it planned enjoyable assemblies weeks in advance, using not only speakers and talent outside of the school but also utilizing the talents of the students and faculty of John Burroughs.

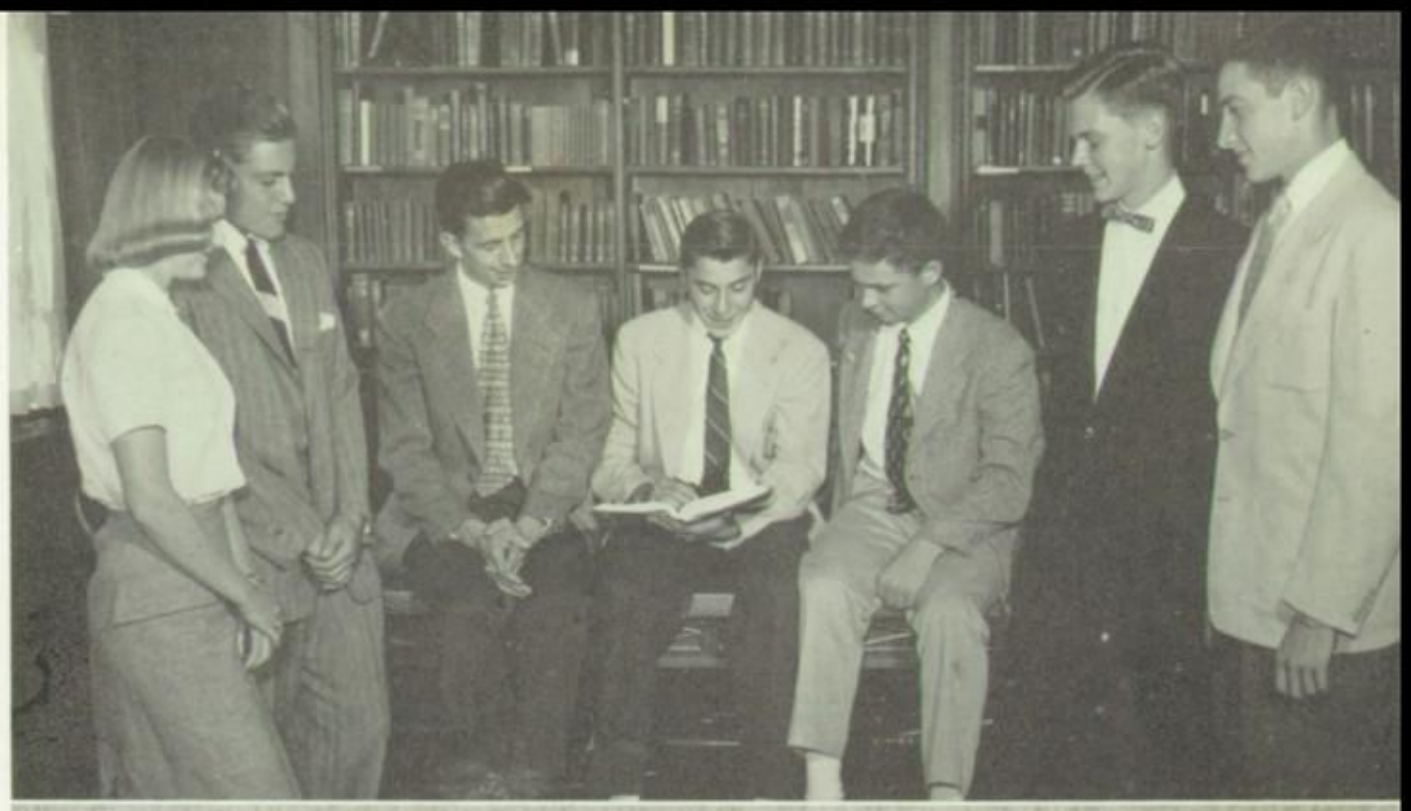


Photography Club

The Photography Club this year was composed of ten members under the guidance of Mr. Hoover. Each person tried to improve himself individually in the course of the year. Since only four of the members were seniors, the Club next year will have people with experience. Some of the pictures taken by this group were used by the "Yearbook."

World Government Club

This year the World Government Club has been under the able direction of Mr. Joseph A. Ophoven. There have been such lively discussions that many people have drifted in to see what all the commotion was about. The Club put on an assembly on the Presidential campaign, with speakers representing both parties. With such enthusiastic participation by all members, next year's Club will be even better.



Rifle Club

Although many members of the Rifle Club had not had any formal instruction in the use and handling of a rifle at the beginning of the year, everyone has exhibited a great amount of skill. Some outstanding scores have been made by beginners and a trend toward steady improvement has been shown by all. Progressing at this rate, many will have received most of the nine possible awards by the end of the year.

Science Club

The members of the Science Club, Senior Schoolers who are interested in science, meet every Wednesday, sixth period, in room 212 to work on individual projects under the guidance of Mr. Eiseman. This year's projects include synthesis of plastics, chemical analysis, petroleum refining, insecticides, a weather vane, and an amateur radio station.

Painting

As in previous years, the fine quality of Burroughs painting has been maintained. This year the two instructors were Mr. Fred Dreher and Miss Margery Dodson, who last year was head of the sculpture department.

The painting students were able to work in charcoal, pastels, opaque water colors, and other media. Many of the students made linoleum block prints, some of which were used in the "Review", others being used for fabric designs.

In January the entire McCaughn and Burr Art Gallery was given over to Burroughs painting and ceramics for a few days. More paintings of Burroughs students were shown in a three-school exhibit at the People's Art Center during February. Of course, at the annual exhibit at Stix, Baer, and Fuller, several Burroughs paintings were shown also.

Mr. Dreher was the instructor of the painting section of the eleventh grade arts course. He taught his pupils the fundamentals of good paintings, and the history of painting. The students were also taught many of the technical terms of painting.

Both Mr. Dreher and Miss Dodson had exhibits in the local art show at the St. Louis Art Museum.

Sculpture

Under the able guidance of Miss Joan Spencer and Mr. Robert Walker, the standard of excellence of the Sculpture department has been more than maintained. This year the Sculpture department of Burroughs has been represented in three exhibits. The first, at the McCaughn and Burr Gallery, was for pieces done by John Burroughs students only. The second exhibit, consisting of ten of the best pieces of sculpture from each of the schools, Country Day, Mary Institute, and John Burroughs, was at The People's Art Center, and the third was the Scholastic Art Contest, which is a contest between all the schools of the St. Louis area.

This year more large pieces of sculpture have been made than in years before. Among these are many beautiful pieces of garden sculpture. The addition of the marble topped casting table has been greatly appreciated as it is a tremendous help to those working with plaster.

The fine instruction and equipment of the Sculpture department not only brings out the creative ability of the student but also gives him a knowledge that will aid him all through his life.

Home Economics

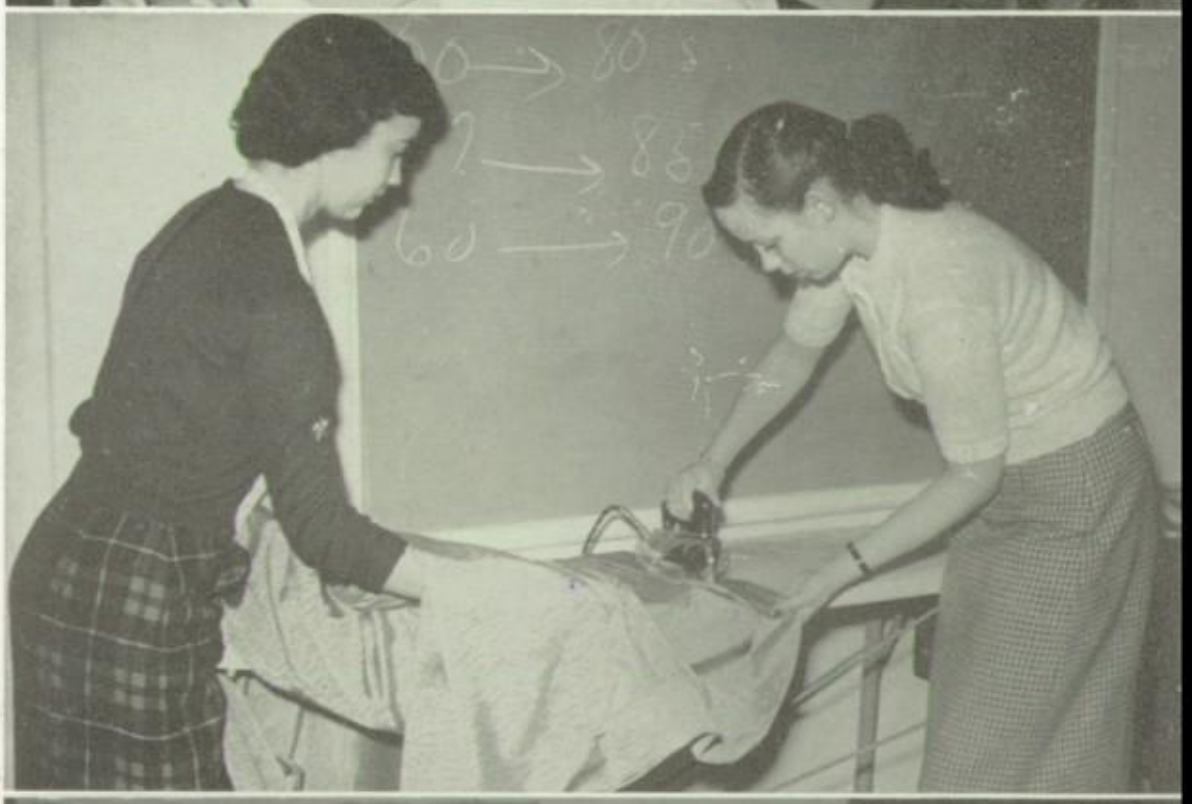
Home Economics, under the supervision of Mrs. Brodine, is a beneficial course for girls in every grade. The girls in this department learn the practice of many useful household arts.

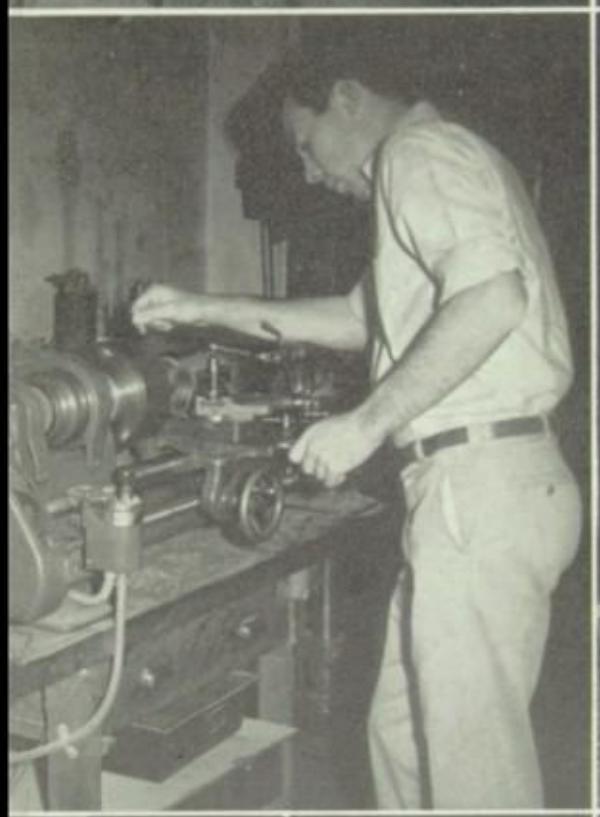
The seventh grade girls were taught the fundamentals of cooking and sewing. They baked simple dishes such as custards and brownies. The seventh graders also developed their skill in sewing and made very nice skirts and blouses.

The eighth grade girls undertook a tea and fashion show. They planned the food themselves and modeled the clothes which they made this year.

The ninth grade girls planned a luncheon to which they invited their mothers. They also learned more advanced methods of sewing.

The Senior School students learned advanced techniques of sewing and made difficult skirts, dresses and play clothes. In addition to their regular activities, they constructed the costumes for the Christmas Pageant and undertook the costuming for the school play "Midsummer Night's Dream."





Industrial Arts

Under the able supervision of Mr. Frank Schmitt and Mr. Howard Blossom, the students participating in this year's shop activities have found an ever increasing range of opportunities in this excellent field. For the student who enjoys woodworking, the shop offers an abundant supply of lumber, as well as the use of the many fine power tools which lighten and speed his work.

This year many students have taken part in the extensive opportunities in metal working. Exeprt instruction is available in arc and gas welding, aluminum casting, and metal turning. Useful projects have also been made by spinning metal and many fancy designs have been etched onto metal trays.

Even the seventh graders, after completing their required projects which acquaint them with the shop facilities, are allowed to undertake almost any wood project they wish. This year several of the boys made full-sized kayaks, designed by Mr. Blossom to be simple in construction, comparatively cheap, light and easy to handle.

Adjoining the shop, there is a drawing room where one can take courses in mechanical, engineering, and architectural drawing. This work gives the student an excellent background for college engineering.

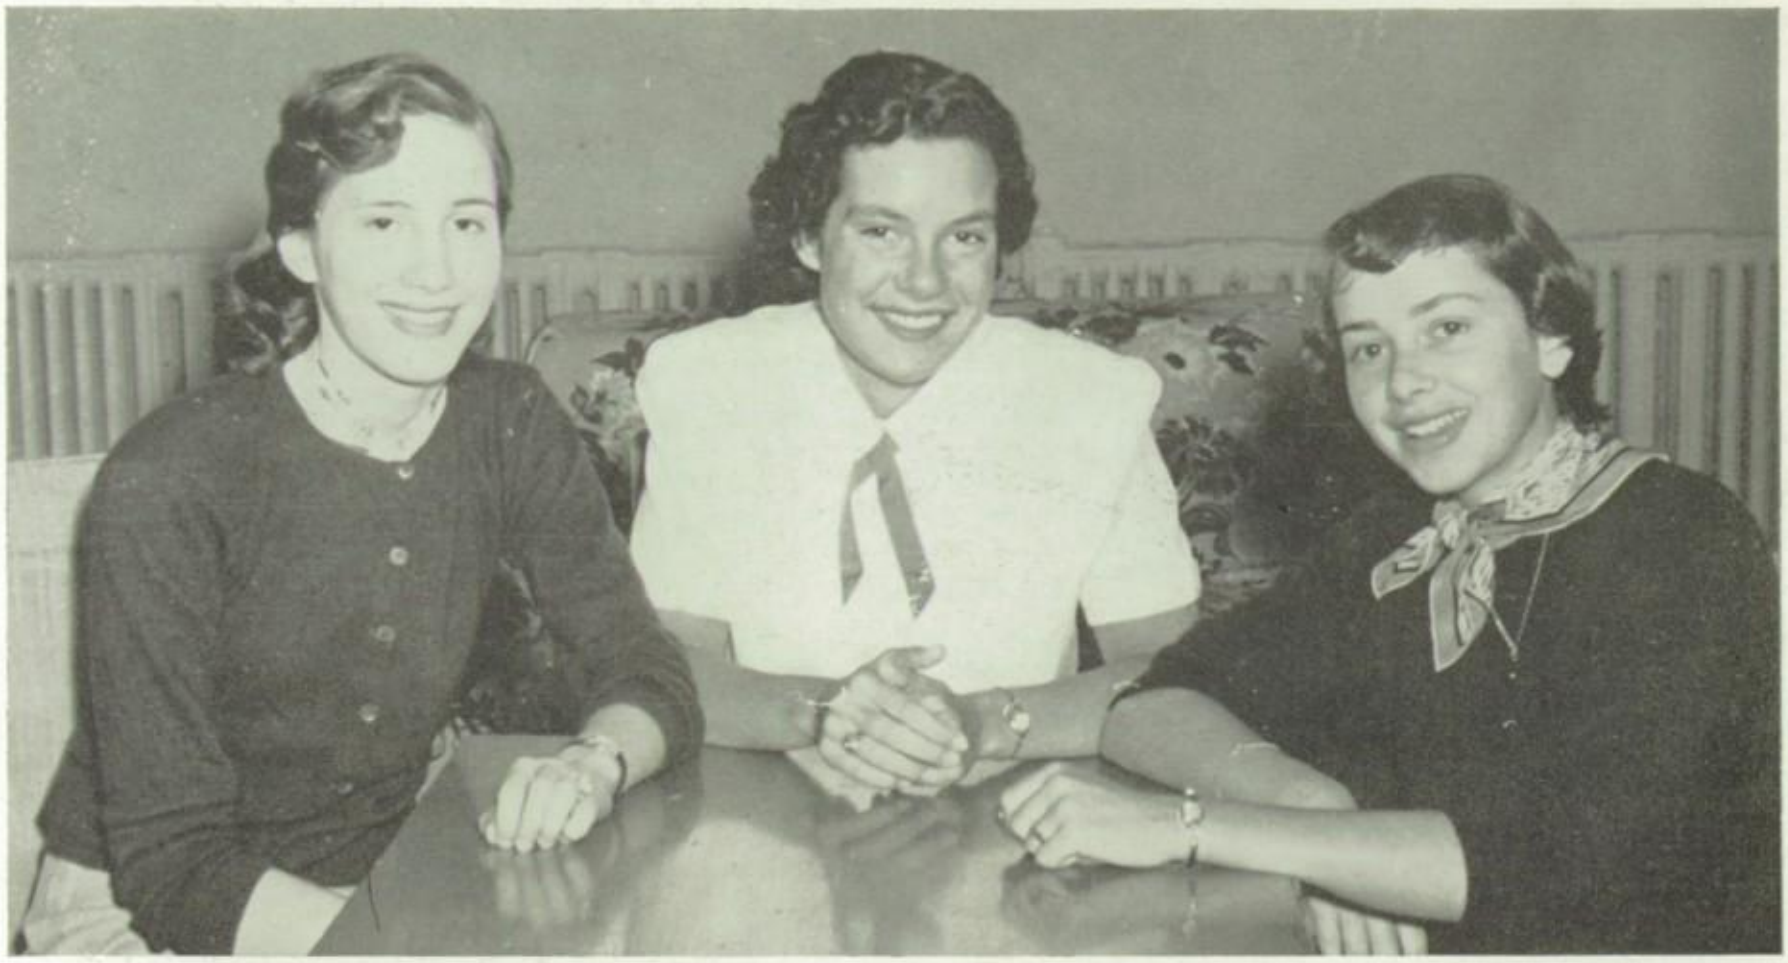
Christmas Pageant--1952

The annual John Burroughs Christmas Pageant took place on Friday, December 19, at 5:30. The Memorial Gymnasium was filled to capacity as the entire school took part in the holiday festivities. The combined efforts of Miss Evelyn Damon and Mr. Fred Dreher, faculty co-chairmen, made possible the smooth performance of the Pageant. The Christmas story taken from Bible excerpts was narrated by Frank Gladney and Janet Neuhoff. Mr. Weinrich directed the choruses as they sang "Puer Natus" and "A Carpenter Cut the Manger Wood." Then followed "Oh, Holy Night", done by the Junior Chorus, "Sing We Noel", done by both Choruses, "Joseph, Faithful Joseph Mine", done by the Glee Club, and "Come, All You Worthy Gentlemen", done by both. While the book holders, who were Robin Dingwol, David MacRae, Terry Croft, David Overbeck, Ann Frielingsdorf, Mary O'Reilly, and Susan Rench, turned the pages of the large song books, the audience joined in singing some of the more well-known carols. The performance reached its climax as the vibrant strains of "Mary's Lullaby," sung by Nina King, floated over a hushed and waiting audience. Slowly the great curtains parted revealing Dorcas and Laura Burroughs' breath-taking tableau. Although traditional in theme, the pyramidal form and stained glass windows of the tableau added a unique effect. The scene depicted Mary, Joseph and the Child elevated on a high pedestal. Surrounding them on other platforms of varying heights were several worshippers. Joseph was portrayed by Gordon Philpott and Mary by Marilyn Montgomery. The worshippers were Sandra Carver, Kitty Greve, Sandy McCarroll, Randy Matreci, Jim Zahorsky, and Peter Fischer. Truly the whole presentation warranted a most generous applause of appreciation for such a splendid performance.

The Junior Prom

The Junior Prom, of course the best one ever, had as its design the South Sea and all the exotic surroundings that go with it. Starting with the beginning days of spring vacation, the head designer Jerry Bitting, with the needed aid of Nina King, acquired all the necessary paint and the rest of the equipment and began to paint three beautiful and colorful murals on the fireproof cardboard sheets which were donated by Bob Wunderlich's father. Georgia Kurrus was in charge of the little gym which she made to look like the deck of a ship, with the chaperones seated on a deck above the floor level. Bill Nichols and Dave Warren were the heads of the construction committee, and they were ably assisted by Tom Bitting, Paul Chandeysson, and Alex Weisenborn, with George Billmeyer, John Gavan, Frank Gladney, Bill Gullion, Cuyler McGinley, Charlie Niekamp, Bebe Weinrich, Pete Weir, and Bob Wunderlich lending an aiding hand when needed. Louise Hamilton was in charge of getting the food for the dance, and Marilyn Montgomery, Betsy Reinhart, Elanor Rowland, Peter Fischer, and Cuyler McGinley helped her in that department. The invitations chairman was Ann Stribling, who had Helene Bauer, Susie Hildreth, Carolyn Hirth, Joan Schlueter, Bill Gullion, Dave Warren, and Bebe Weinrich helping out. Al Black took charge of the lighting, with Elizabeth Brandon, Paul Chandeysson, and Dave Warren giving their assistance. Benny Rader's music master-minds were acquired by Orchestra committee chairman Susie Hildreth and her staff of June Maune, John Alexander, and Rob Hunter. Lexie Hill was in charge of safety, and Pete Walsh was in charge of keeping the stag line in order. Jim Harrison, the over-all chairman, put in many hours of fine work in getting the gyms ready for the big night, and the whole class feels proud of their most marvelous, merry, melodious, and exotic night of the Junior Prom.



Brownlee, Rowland, Hirsch.

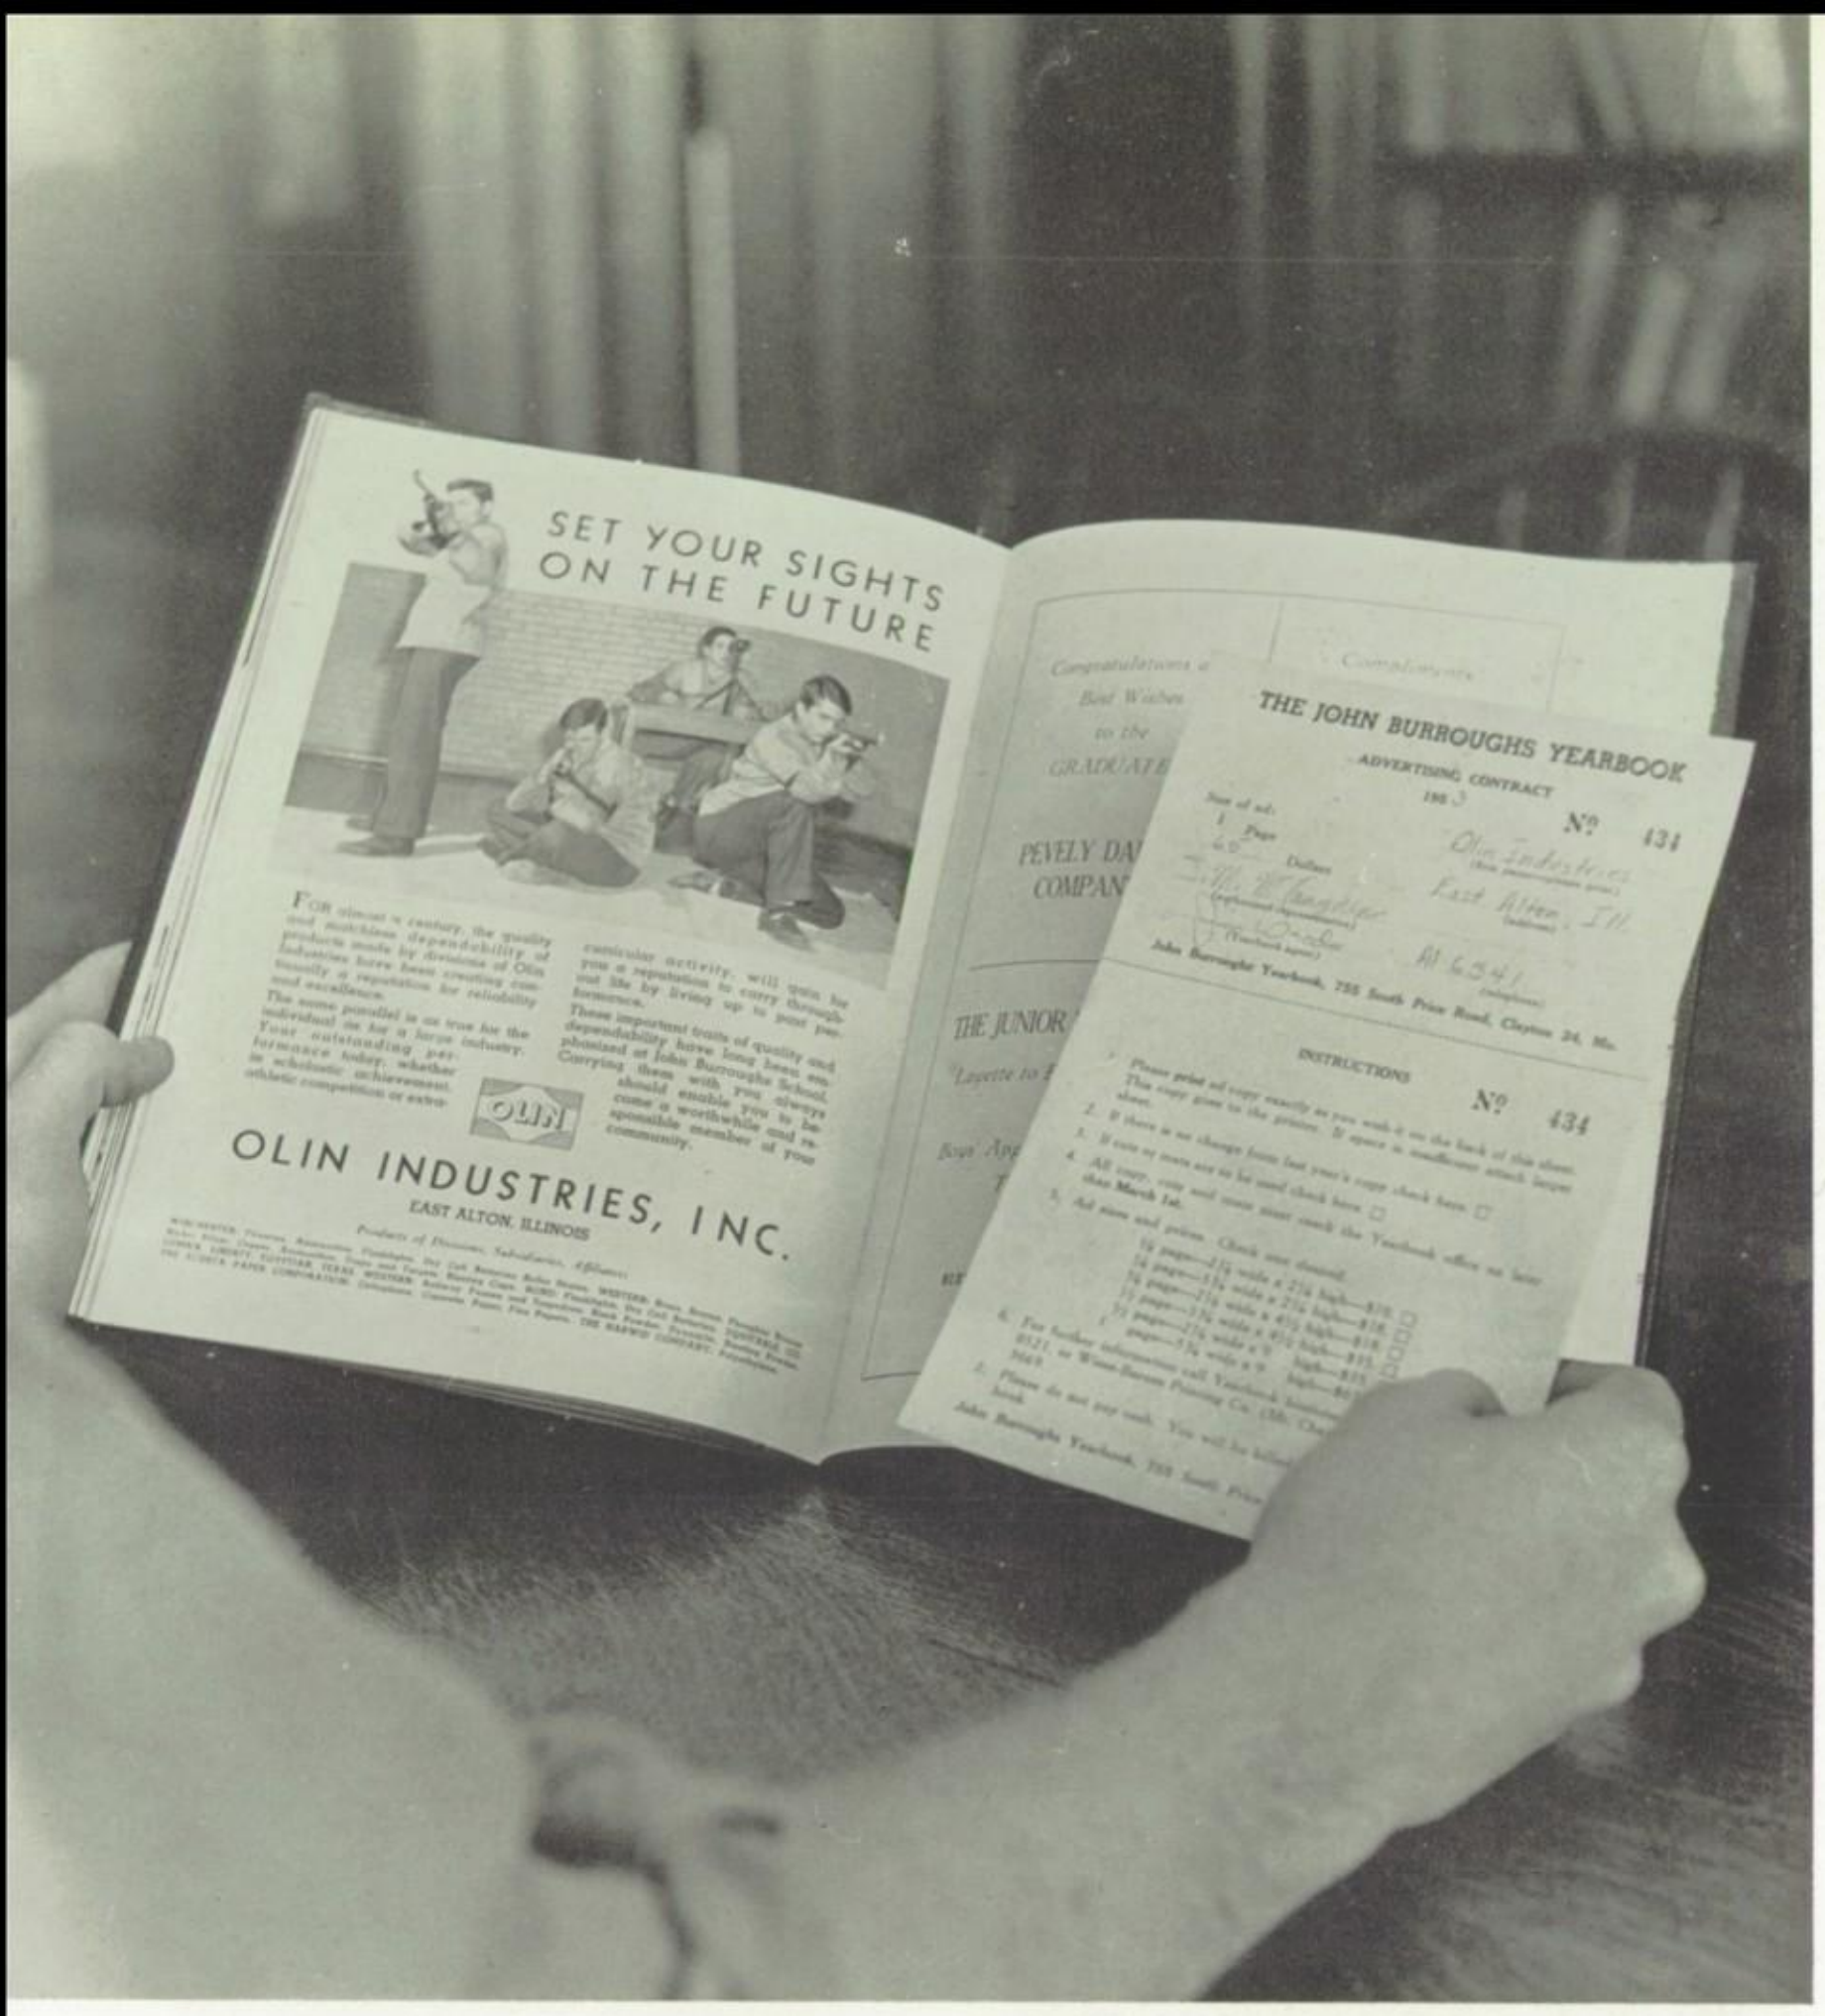
Senior Girls' Leap Year Dance

The Senior Girls' Leap Year Dance was given on Saturday, April 11. The design, "Out of This World", was submitted by Teen Brownlee and Sue Hirsch. Eleanor Rowland was the overall chairman of the dance, and heads of the various committees were Teen Brownlee, Sue Hirsch, Elaine Rowland, Janet Neuhoff and Marilyn Montgomery.

As the people walked past fluffy, white clouds through St. Peter's gate, they left the world, and entered into heaven through porta's of blue drapery held back by a gold cord. From the ceiling and through the navy streamers, hung eight huge clouds and four irregu'ar shaped stars, all sparkling with a silver glitter. A large revolving silver ball, suspended frcm the center of the ceiling, reflected millions of round, multi-colored specks about the floor and walls. Silver luminous cut-outs of stars, the Big Dipper, Saturn, and other heavenly bodies were glowing from the navy drapes hanging along the walls.

Behind George Whitlow's band was a large angel hair cloud sprinkled with glitter, upon which sat the figure of Gabriel blowing his horn. Silver tinted angel's hair also was draped around the base of the band platform.

Many thanks go to the Senior Girls and the Faculty for their hard work and cooperation, all of which helped to make the dance a big success.



SET YOUR SIGHTS ON THE FUTURE
FOR almost a century, the quality and matchless dependability of products made by divisions of Olin Industries have been creating confidence, a reputation for reliability and excellence.
The same parallel is as true for the individual as for a large industry. Your outstanding performance today, whether in scholastic achievement, athletic competition or extra-curricular activity, will gain for you a reputation to carry throughout life by living up to your performance.
These important traits of quality and dependability have long been associated at John Burroughs School. Carrying them with you always should enable you to become a worthwhile and responsible member of your community.

SENIORS IN ACTION

their war orphan, the boys began to demonstrate their latent athletic abilities. Three boys lettered on the 'C' football team, and, wonder of all wonders, the eighth grade basketball team beat Coach Staten's mighty 'C' team.

It seems to be the custom of class historians to extoll the virtues of its members and itemize its most brilliant accomplishments. The class of 1953 could hardly be expected to exhibit any acute departure from the pattern. But instead of the usual heroics, suppose we examine the record. By the beginning of our ninth grade year the school was pretty well aware of us. With representatives in council and athletic council, carrying the load for any class in the orchestra, with John Perkins, who could double in brass on both violin and piano, in addition to composing on the side, a weighty contingent in the junior chorus, we still had time to really begin carving our mark on the athletic field. Here is a quote from an early "World" in the fall of 1949: "An entirely new 'C' team will open the defense of its A.B.C. league — no returning regulars — the prospects are uncertain — squad is light and green . . ." This was the team, sparked by 13 ninth graders, that turned in one of the most outstanding performances in the history of J. B. They were untied, undefeated, and unscored-upon. This was the beginning of an illustrious record sustained by the sterling efforts of Bob Thym, Gordon Philpott, Gates Agnew, and other muscle-men. Our first party of the year was a Football Barbecue, immediately following a victorious game. An accordian player furnished music during supper, and afterward we enjoyed games, square dancing and skits. Our second, and final party was a swimming party and luncheon held at Crystal Lake on June 1st.

Suddenly, by some magic alchemy, our class was different. When we re-convened in the fall of 1950 the boys were taller and the girls were slimmer, and everything was much more interesting.

Festivities began with a barbecue and hay ride at Bar-X, and we made the acquaintance of several new additions to our ranks. The sophomore dramatic group produced three plays, and budding actors Gladney, Kurrus, Neuhoff, Hill and Brandon showed promise at once of prowess soon to be so forcibly demonstrated. Eleanor Rowland represented us in Student Council, and we elected Harrison as bailiff of the Court. In accordance with past performance we continued to supply a lion's share of performers in both orchestra and glee club.

Again we had lettermen on 'A', 'B' and 'C' football, basketball, soccer and baseball teams. The girls held up their end of the athlectic picture with a half dozen or so members on varsity teams. This continued to be a great social year — remember the rash of open houses, Liz Brandon's, June Maune's, and Sandy Carver's to mention a few. We attended all the school dances, and the boys were dutifully arraigned in the stag line at the Junior Prom.

The grass was green on Leland Field early in the September of our Junior year as around ten of us reported for pre-season football practice after a long, relaxing summer vacation spent in a variety of ways. Peter Fischer went abroad; others went to the Great Lakes, New England, Colorado, and points West; whereas the majority of us stayed in St. Louis, worked, played and slept late mornings. After the ambitious junior football players had sweated for about a week, they were joined in room 205 by their adviser, Mr. Parry, and their classmates of the preceding June with the exception of George Hickenlooper. Bill Gullion, however, had joined us. Meanwhile, on that same September morning, in room 211 the girls of the class of '53 were saying hello to their adviser, Mrs. Miller. Unfortunately, they were minus Lynn Abend and Caroline Meyer.

Our class placed Jim and Bobby Thym on the court; Lexie and Gordon represented us on the Athletic Council. The Steering Committee that year sported David, and the Social Committee, Pete Walsh and Sue Hildreth. We were on the JBS publications with Albert, Robin, and Joan Sturgis of the "Yearbook"; Anne, Leigh, Marilyn, Albert, and Bill Nichols were "World" journalists; and Sandra, Sue Hildreth, Georgia, Kathy, Liz, Lexie, Anne, Bebe, Susan Carr were on the "Review" board.

It wasn't long before we learned that we had quite a musical class, that placed much talent on the orchestra and glee club. Joan Sturgis, for instance, played the flute then, and Marilyn the violin. Jim was gaining mastery over the extremely difficult French horn, while Albert sounded his trumpet. Our most versatile musician, John Perkins, played the violin and bassoon and composed and played his own piano arrangements for the spring concerts, the assemblies, and for the radio.

The most politically minded was Bob Dubinsky, a member of the World Government Club who was to attend the Columbia Forum on Democracy two straight years.

The class started to look promising on the stage in "Pygmalion", which had numbered among the cast Frances, Susan Carr, Janet, Frank and Lexie. The next spring saw "Dear Ruth" and Georgia, Kathy, and Frank.

We tried to have a class party that year, but since there was no agreement among us about the kind of an affair to have, we decided to save our collective energies for the big push — the Junior Prom. Leading up to the Friday, April the 18th, deadline, we worked feverishly.

We charged paint at Clayton Appliance and crowded into the attic of the school to paint inspirational mural scenes of the sunset in the South Pacific, cut out palm trees from Mr. Wunderlich's cardboard with borrowed bread knives, and sat watching. We fastened our trees onto chicken wire in the gym and hid Christmas tree lights behind them — a striking effect. All during the final week we nightly donned our dungarees for orgies of painting, hauling, and hanging a record amount of midnight blue and white streamers. We cleaned the paint off our hands in time to pose for a photograph taken of us in full dress. Later on we hurried to the Agnew's house across the street, where we sang so long and so hard as Rob's big brother, Frank, tunefully and tirelessly played the piano that we quite forgot the ham and the rest of the food prepared for the party.

Before we knew it election time had come, and Gates and Gordon battled for the office of Speaker of the Assembly. Gordon became president of the Student Council as Red succeeded to the position of "gavel wielding dictator." Speaking to the students from bed through a tape recording, Bobby Thym, sick with the mumps, won the race for Chief Justice of the Student Court.

It was getting warmer and warmer, and we were rehearsing for "Down in the Valley." Summer was upon us. Some of us left; some found employment; but all of us pondered the idea of being Seniors.

We were reserved, sophisticated, and definitely ten years older as we were introduced to our little brothers and sisters. The boys sat and chatted as the class of '58 boys played softball and drank their sodas. The girls drove their charges around and gave them a somewhat erratic glimpse of undergraduate life at JBS.

We assembled as Seniors for the first time at the Harrison's for a party given with the Thyms and the Weissenborns as co-hosts. Many fascinating tales of the summer were exchanged, as we talked, danced, played, and ate before the evening degenerated into community singing. It was here that we met Jackie Jones, a New Yorker and the last person to join the class of '53.

In the first week we saw that we were the leaders of the school with Marilyn, Jim, and Sandy on the JBS Court. The Student Council claimed the services of Georgia, Albert, and Gordon, Susie Berger was chairman of the Social Committee, which managed the Football Dance, a social and financial success. Kathy and Janet were editors of the "Review" now while Dave and Frank ran the "World." The Seniors responsible for this "Yearbook" are Pete Walsh, Pete Fischer, Don and Marilyn.

Senior thespians dominated the fall production of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" as Georgia took the lead and had Jim as a lover, Frank as her father, Susan Carr her cousin, and Janet and Frances her sisters.

We had our class party in the fall, and the boys beat the girls' at their own sport — field hockey — in a contest that saw many violations of the rules and a long hard drive down the girls' right side and a score by Rob, a guard on the "A" football team. Dr Haertter and Mrs. Williamson, our advisers, and Mrs. Haertter were our guests at the candlelight dinner that followed.

As viewers of the Christmas Pageant heard Nina's dulcet voice sing Mary's Lullaby, they were shown the tableau; in it were Gordon and Marilyn as Joseph and Mary and also Sandra and Pete Fischer. Janet and Frank narrated a program marked with the beautiful singing of the Glee Clubs and playing of the orchestra.

The following weeks climaxed months of calendar watching and letter writing for some of the girls, and all of us enjoyed the tea-dance given at the MAC by the Kings, the Kurruses, and the Brownlees. It was a huge success, and many Burroughs graduates attended. The girls also got together for a series of teas, luncheons, and coffees.

The "A" basketball team, led by seven of us — Gates, Bobby, Bebe, Leigh, Bill, Pete, and Gordon — went to K. C. along with much support from the rest of the school. It wasn't long before these same seven were speeding to Elvins and then to the Cape.

But January also brought examinations which forced the Seniors out of circulation for a week and turned the school over to the younger students.

Spring vacation widely dispersed the class, sending us to New England, Colorado, Florida, and points South and turning the majority of us loose on the city for two weeks. A lot of the girls stayed at home to cut out 3-D stars and paint a handsome Gabriel for the Leap Year Dance coming the next week. Most of us went with each other to Susan Carr's for dinner and then ran through the rain to a dance that lived up to its name in celestial attractiveness. The party at the Maunes' afterwards proved as enjoyable as we had anticipated.

We were relaxed observers the next week as we sat back and listened to our underclassmen battle it out for the student government; we were resting up for the forthcoming test of endurance, the Junior Prom. Despite the resting up, we were quite tired after an exhilarating evening in Paris and a wonderful party at the Thyms'.

Examinations — graduation — and then we were together again, in the same company, in the same dining hall, and yet it was not quite the same.

Congratulations and Best Wishes . . .

LADUE

Not getting all the breaks of the game, the Burroughs squad could do no better than tie Ladue 1 - 1 in the initial game. Having an off-day and hampered by many fouls, the forward line could not seem to get hold of the ball long enough to score.

COUNTRY DAY

Starting unusually fast, Burroughs scored its only goal within thirty seconds of the whistle. Playing excellent defense, fullbacks Nichols and Gladney kept the ball out of the Burroughs goal. The second half was played with Burroughs facing the sun, and the team couldn't get the ball into Codasco territory. The game ended in a 1 - 0 victory for Burroughs.

PRINCIPIA

Making it three straight ABC League wins, Burroughs traveled to Prin and defeated them 2 - 0. Niekamp and Woods did the scoring, which was done entirely in the second half, after a slow start.

MERCY

In their return game with Mercy, Burroughs beat them 3 - 0. Playing on an extremely muddy field, Burroughs could only score one goal in the first half. In the second half Burroughs showed what good "mudders" they were as they scored two more.

LADUE

In a game played on a smooth fast field, Burroughs defeated an aggresive Ladue team 4 - 0. The battle was sparked by unusually fine play in the Burroughs forward line.

WESTERN

Meeting Western for the final and championship game of the season, Burroughs could not have asked for better weather. The sun was out, and the field was smooth and fast. Burroughs drew first blood in the game, but, soon after, Western scored two and led at the end of the first half 2 - 1. The second half was scoreless with both teams playing good defensive and offensive soccer.

"A" BASKETBALL

of play when among confusion and havoc, Hewes Agnew recovered a loose ball and whipped it to Bob Thym who gently laid it in the basket for the margin of victory. The final score was 67 - 66 with Thym scoring 29 and Philpott 17. The following night the Bombers met the Puxico Indians, two-time "B" Class State Champions seeking their third in a row. Puxico led at half time, 42 - 38; however, a strong Burroughs third period reversed the score to 61 - 55 for the Bombers. The fast exciting period saw three members of each team foul out and the superior play of Bebe Weinrich along with substitutes maintain the lead so that Burroughs triumphed, 73 - 65. Bill Gullion played inspired basketball to help the Bombers stay close in the first half.

The Bombers came a long way during the season and established a real tradition of winning. Through teamwork and spirit they were successful in every way.

Adding to the fine play of Bob Thym at center were forwards Gordon Philpott, Pete Fischer, Bill Gullion and Hewes Agnew, and guards Leigh Strassner, Gates Agnew, Bebe Weinrich, and Joe Lintzenich. Hewes Agnew, Joe Lintzenich, Allen Hurkamp, and Clifford Dimmitt will be returning lettermen next year.

Members of the team received several honors. Bob Thym was placed on the Class "B" All State basketball team. Bob also was All St. Louis District and Most Valuable Player of the Year. Bebe Weinrich was named on the All State second string team. Gordon Philpott, Bob Thym and Bebe Weinrich were named on the All ABC League team.

oughs never recovered. They finally lost 46-38. In the final game of the year the team played a good first half and was ahead 21-11 at halftime. In the second half Western started to move and with five seconds to go tied up the game. Then, on two free throws by little Tommy Devens, the team went ahead, and won the game by. 31-29.

The highest scorer for the year was Barkley Calkens with 91 points, while the highest scorer for a single game was Dave Hardy with 15 points against Principia.

The starting five were usually: Conzelman, Gutman or Ford, Calkins, Wood, and Hardy. The team's 3-3 record in league play, and 3-8 overall record was enough to tie it for second in the ABC league.

of pitching. With Bob Thym out because of illness, the only first-line pitcher left was Bill MacCarthy, who finished the season with a very respectable 5-1 record, that one loss coming on an error which gave Principia a close 1-0 decision. After MacCarthy, however, the Bomber pitching was very weak with a converted outfielder, Sandy McDonald, and two converted catchers, Charley Edison and Don Pruett, accounting for just one victory and five losses.

Although the '53 squad will feel strongly the loss of such players as Charley Duncker, Bill MacCarthy, Jeremy Harris, Bill Agnew, Pete Zentay, Charley Edison and Don Pruett, it will have the benefit of many returning lettermen, such as Sandy McDonald, Gates Agnew, Bill Nichols, Cliff Dimmitt and Bill Longstreet. With these boys forming an experienced nucleus, the '53 team should have a fine year.

score of 62 to 51. This increased success also continued through the State meet which came next. Here "B" Burroughs piled up an impressive score of 27.6 points, beating the nearest contender by over ten points.

Next followed the ABC meet where Burroughs met their second defeat of the season by losing to C. D. S. by a point and a half in one of the hardest fought meets of the year. But even this defeat at the end of the season couldn't lessen the glory that was deserved by all the hard working members of the squad, such as G. Philpott, and B. Sunnen on the 120 high hurdles, B. Agnew, and H. Agnew in the 100, J. Papin, T. Cori, and T. Jones in the mile, K. Teasdale, A. Black, and G. Philpot in the 440, B. Peniston, and R. Potter in the 180 low hurdles, B. Agnew, and H. Enclose Your PORCH - BREEZEWAY

ALUMINUM AWNING WINDOWS

GLASS JALOUSIES

The Porch Beautiful

Bring the Beautiful Outdoors Indoors

Aluminum Awning Windows or Glass Jalousies are ideal for enclosing your present porch or breezeway into a cozy, pleasant, all-weather living room.

Set a new standard of beauty and gracious living by modernizing your open porch . . . gain the benefit of an added room with winter or summer Tru-Seal Aluminum Awning Windows or with Glass Jalousies for the summer porch.

Enjoy 100% full ventilation and eliminate damage to expensive rugs, draperies, and furniture by sudden showers and windstorms, because rain does not enter even though windows are open. An operating handle opens and closes windows to any desired degree of opening for controlled ventilation.

Enclosed porches offer you the opportunity of redecorating the porch interior with "Corrulux" Translucent Shatterproof panels; "Lamidall" wood-grained plastic wall panels; "Sonofaced" colorful acoustical fiberglass insulation tile for the ceiling; Ra-Tox Decorative Roll-Up Ventilating Shades.

In the moisture-proof, light-proof red "book" package!

Everybody knows that light and air are no friends of bacon. So the Hunter folks did something about it! They put their lean, meaty bacon in a handy "book" package that seals in the delicious fresh flavor —keeps out light, air and moisture. Which means you get fresh, firm, flavorful bacon—the bacon you love best—every time you buy Hunter Sliced Bacon in the bright red "book" package. Get some tomorrow.
